Also, please understand that the handbook is not intended to be a contract (express or implied), nor is it intended to otherwise create any legally enforceable employment contracts or other obligations on the part of CETraC or to change the nature of any employment relationship. This handbook supersedes and controls over all previous policies adopted by the labour office and/or Executive Director & Management Team regarding the same subject matter to the extent those previous policies conflict with the provisions of this handbook.

CETraC Executive Director & Management Team is responsible for establishing procedures to administer these policies and for recommending to the Utility Board or its committees, any changes deemed desirable. CETraC reserves the right to make changes to the policies, procedures, and other statements made in this Employee Handbook consistent with Federal, State, and local laws. Business conditions, Federal and State Law, and organizational needs are constantly in flux and may require that portions of the handbook be re-written. This is necessary to successfully provide the appropriate employment relationship and to attain the goals of CETraC. When any part of this handbook is amended, CETraC will endeavor to communicate the change to all employees in a timely manner. Each CETraC employee is responsible for knowing and complying with all provisions contained herein.

The Executive Director & Management Team has the authority to make changes to this Employee Handbook, to the extent necessary to conform the provisions hereof with changes in CETraC organizational structure, within his or her authority, including, but not limited to, changes in job titles, levels of management, staff reorganization, and the like.

Please sign the acknowledgement form at the back of this handbook and return it to the Human Resources (HR) & Development Office. This will provide CETraC with a record that you have received the handbook.

ANTI - HARASSMENT POLICY

CETraC will not tolerate any form of harassment of employees by anyone including Supervisors, Department Directors, Managers, other employees, or customers.

CETraC is committed to providing a workplace free of sexual harassment as well as harassment based upon such factors as race, color, religion, sex, national origin, ancestry, age, medical condition, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, marital status, disability, or veteran status. CETraC strongly disapproves of, and will not tolerate, harassment of employees by Supervisors, Department Directors, Managers, or co-workers. CETraC will also attempt to protect employees from harassment by non-employees in the workplace.

Harassment is objectionable and unwelcome conduct, comment, or display that demeans, humiliates, causes offense, or constitutes a threat to a person's health or safety, or creates an intimidating, offensive, or hostile working environment or that interferes with work performance. Some examples include racial slurs, ethnic jokes, posting of offensive statements, posters, or cartoons, gossiping or spreading rumors, insulting or humiliating another, slandering, ridiculing or maligning another, ignoring or alienating another, or other similar malicious conduct that a reasonable person would find unprofessional, disturbing, or harmful.

Sexual harassment includes solicitation of sexual favors, unwelcome sexual advances, or other verbal, visual, or physical conduct of a sexual nature. No employee shall use his/her job position or authority to solicit, or imply solicitation, of sexual favors of any nature. Further, no employee may subject any other employee to adverse working conditions (i.e., conditional wage increases, conditional promotions, threats of termination or termination, unnecessary change of work schedule, unfair evaluation of performance, etc.) for failure to comply with any such solicitation, implied or otherwise.

Employees should report any incident of harassment, including work-related harassment by any CETraC personnel or any other person, promptly to their Supervisor or Department Director (or to any other member of management) or to the Director of HR & Communications, who is responsible for investigating the matter. Directors who receive complaints or who observe harassing conduct should immediately inform the Director of HR & Communications. CETraC emphasizes that employees are not required to report incidents first to their Supervisor if the Supervisor is the individual who is harassing the employee.

Every complaint of harassment that is reported to the Director of HR & Communications will be investigated thoroughly, promptly, and in a confidential manner. In addition, CETraC will not tolerate retaliation against any employee for making a complaint to the Director of HR & Communications or to any other member of management.

In the case of CETraC employees, if harassment is established, the offender is subject to disciplinary actions. Disciplinary action may include a written warning, a demotion, suspension, or termination, as appropriate under the circumstances. With respect to acts of harassment by customers or vendors, corrective action will be taken after consultation with appropriate management personnel.

ATTENDING INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL SEMINARS, WORKSHOPS, & TRAINING COURSES

All employees will follow CETraC' Travel Policy and Procedures for the payment and/or reimbursement of expenses as it relates to attending external seminars, workshops and training courses. Employees who are required to attend any work-related seminar, training session, workshop, etc. must receive prior written approval from their Department Director, who will inform the Human Resources Supervisor if an employee must leave before the program is over.

The employee must also receive prior permission from their Department Director, who will advise the Human Resources Supervisor if they are required to stay additional days and/or hours due to not passing the required certifications. Any employee who leaves early or stays longer without prior approval will be subject to disciplinary action up to, and including, termination. Such employee may also be responsible for reimbursing CETraC for the entire cost of the program, which could include travel, meals, accommodations, registration fees, and any other charges associated with the program.

BULLETIN BOARDS

CETraC has bulletin boards located throughout the facilities for the purpose of communicating with its employees. Postings on these boards are limited to CETraC-related material, including statutory and legal notices, job postings, safety and disciplinary rules, CETraC policies, memos of general interest relating to CETraC, local operating rules, union matters, and other items. Any postings by employees must have prior approval by the HR & Communications department.

Inbound and outbound CETraC employee calls, made or received on recorded phone lines, may also be recorded. The purpose of the notification message to callers is to alert the caller that the communication in which they are involved is being recorded.

CHANGES IN RULES

The information contained in these Rules and Regulations is intended as a general guide for employees. It does not constitute any form of employment contract or guarantee. CETraC, of course, may change rules, regulations, and policies at any time and such changes may not be reflected in these rules at the time they are read. Existing rules and policies, as determined from time to time by management, shall supersede any written information previously distributed.

CODE OF ETHICS POLICY

The Executive Board of Center Excellent Training & Consultancy (CETraC) has adopted a Code of Ethics for its employees. This Code of Ethics is substantially similar to the Code of Ethics adopted by the Republic of Ghana for employees. The purpose of this Code of Ethics is to ensure that CETraC' business transactions and professional affairs will be carried out in a professional and ethical manner without conflicts of interest or the appearance of conflicts of interest. This Code of Ethics applies to all CETraC employees. This Code is generally set out in a prohibitive manner and addresses actions or transactions that should be avoided by employees.

In addition to complying with this Code of Ethics, all CETraC employees must also avoid situations or transactions not specifically described herein or prohibited by law or rule if the situation or transaction could be construed to represent a conflict of interest.

CETraC employees are prohibited from having any interest, financial or otherwise, direct or indirect, engaging in any business transaction, or incurring any obligation, in any case where their dealings, transactions, or obligations would be in conflict with the discharge of their duties to CETraC.

CETraC employees may not solicit or accept anything of value, including cash, in-kind services, tips, gifts, loans, rewards, promises of future employment, favors or services used to influence or attempt to influence their actions.

CETraC employees may not purchase, rent, or lease realty, goods or services for CETraC from any business entity if they (or spouses or children) are an officer, partner, director, or proprietor in that business entity or have an interest in it. CETraC employees, acting in a private capacity, are prohibited from selling, renting, or leasing realty, goods, or services to CETraC. CETraC employees may not use or attempt to use their position, property, or resources or perform duties in a way that would secure a special privilege, benefit, or exemption for themselves or others.

CETraC employees may not have employment or contractual relationships with business entities that do business with CETraC. Further, CETraC employees may not have employment or contractual relationships that will create recurring conflicts between their private interests and the performance of their duties with CETraC or which could impede their ability to carry out their duties to CETraC.

The prohibitions against doing business with CETraC and against conflicting employment or contractual relationships with CETraC will not be violated if:

- the business is transacted on a rotation system among all qualified suppliers of goods and services;
- the business is awarded under a sealed, competitive bidding process to the best evaluated bidder; the employee does not participate in determining the best evaluated bidder and does not use or attempt to use influence to get the contract; and the employee discloses the interest to CETraC in writing prior to or at the time of submission of the bid;
- the purchase or sale is for utility services, passage on a common carrier, or legal advertising in a daily newspaper published and having a general circulation in the City of Ghana, and in such other newspapers or publications as the Utility Board shall deem advisable;
- the purchase is an emergency purchase to protect the health, safety, or welfare of the public;
- the business entity is CETraC's only source of supply and there is full written disclosure to CETraC of the interest of the employee in the business entity;
- the CETraC employee is a stockholder, officer, or director of a bank which is a qualified depository of funds under the jurisdiction of CETraC, provided that the Executive Director & Management Team determines that the employee has not favored such bank over other qualified banks; and,
- CETraC employees do not violate this Code of Ethics by having an employment relationship with a tax exempt organization (such as a religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational organization, non-profit business league, chamber of commerce, etc.) that contracts or does business with CETraC as long as such person is not directly or indirectly compensated as a result of the contractual or business relationship.

CETraC employees may not disclose or use information that is not available to the general public and that was gained through or because of their association or employment with CETraC for their gain or the gain of others.

CETraC employees acting in their official capacity may not procure contractual services for CETraC from any business entity of which a relative is an officer, partner, director, or proprietor, or in which they or their spouses and/or children have a material interest.

CETraC employees shall not accept gifts, foods or beverages that they know or should know are worth more than the amount stipulated in Ghana Labour Law on Ethics Rule unless the gifts are accepted on behalf of CETraC and shared whenever practicable with other CETraC employees. However, any gift, regardless of the amount, must be reported, in writing, to the Executive Director & Management Team. This prohibition does not apply to food and beverages consumed at a single sitting or event.

The CETraC Code of Ethics is supplementary to all state laws or rules regarding ethics and professional conduct and compliance with all relevant state laws and rules is required. Required compliance includes the disclosure and reporting requirements and the use of disclosure and reporting forms adopted by the Ghana Labour Law on Ethics.

Violations of the provisions of this Code of Ethics may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination, to be imposed pursuant to Labour Law policy.

The provisions of this section of CETraC' Rules & Regulations may be revised or amended by the Executive Director & Management Team without approval of the Labour Laws of Ghana whenever necessary to conform to Ghanaian Labour law, as it may be revised or amended. The Labour Act will be notified prior to making the change. The following page contains a list of helpful guidelines.

COMPUTER ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY

Overview

Information Services intentions for publishing an Acceptable Use Policy are not to impose restrictions that are contrary to CETraC' established culture of openness, trust and integrity. Information Services is committed to protecting CETraC employees and the company from illegal or damaging actions by individuals, either knowingly or unknowingly.

Internet/Intranet/Extranet-related systems, including but not limited to computer equipment, software, operating systems, storage media, network accounts providing electronic mail, WWW browsing, and FTP, are the property of CETraC. These systems are to be used for business purposes in serving the interests of the company, and of our customers in the course of normal operations. Please review other related policies in this handbook relating to computer usage for further details.

Effective security is a team effort involving the participation and support of every CETraC employee and affiliate who deals with information and/or information systems. It is the responsibility of every computer user to know these guidelines, and to conduct their activities accordingly.

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to outline the acceptable use of computer equipment at CETraC. These rules are in place to protect the employee and CETraC. Inappropriate use exposes CETraC to risks including virus attacks, compromise of network systems and services, and legal issues.

Scope

This policy applies to employees, contractors, consultants, temporaries, and other workers at CETraC, including all personnel affiliated with third parties. This policy applies to all equipment that is owned or leased by CETraC.

Policy

General Use and Ownership

- While CETraC' network administration desires to provide a reasonable level of privacy, users should be aware that the data they create on the corporate systems remains the property of CETraC. Because of the need to protect CETraC' network, management cannot guarantee the confidentiality of information stored on any network device belonging to CETraC.
- Employees are responsible for exercising good judgment regarding the reasonableness of personal use. Employees should be guided by policies on personal use, and if there is any uncertainty, employees should consult their Supervisor or Director.
- For security and network maintenance purposes, authorized individuals within CETraC may monitor equipment, systems, and network traffic at any time.
- CETraC reserves the right to audit networks and systems on a periodic basis to ensure compliance with this policy.

Security and Proprietary Information

- The user interface for information contained on Internet/Intranet/Extranet-related systems should be classified as either confidential or not confidential, as defined by corporate confidentiality guidelines. Examples of confidential information include but are not limited to: company private, corporate strategies, competitor sensitive, trade secrets, specifications, customer lists, and research data. Employees should take all necessary steps to prevent unauthorized access to this information.
- Keep passwords secure and do not share your logon information (USERNAME / PASSWORD) with anyone including Information Services. Authorized users are responsible for the security of their passwords. User level passwords should be complex (minimum 8 alpha numeric characters) changed every month.
- All PCs, laptops, and workstations should be secured with a password-protected screensaver with the automatic activation feature set at 10 minutes or less, or by locking the computer (control-alt-delete-lock computer) when the PC is unattended.
- Because information contained on portable computers is especially vulnerable, special care should be exercised.

- Postings by employees from a CETraC email address to newsgroups is forbidden unless the posting is in the course of the employee's business duties. All such postings of personal opinion / nature should be done using the employees personal email address. All PCs, laptops, and workstations used by employees that are connected to CETraC' Internet/Intranet/Extranet, whether owned by the employee or CETraC, shall be continually executing approved virus-scanning software with a current virus database. Unless overridden by departmental or group policy.
- Employees must use extreme caution when opening e-mail attachments received from unknown senders, which may contain viruses, e-mail bombs, or Trojan horse code. Before opening, contact Information Services.

Unacceptable Use

The following activities are, in general, prohibited. Employees may be exempted from these restrictions during the course of their legitimate job responsibilities (e.g., systems administration staff may have a need to disable the network access of a PC, laptop, and workstation if that host is disrupting production services).

Under no circumstances is an employee of CETraC authorized to engage in any activity that is illegal under Local, State, or international law while utilizing CETraC-owned resources.

The lists below are by no means exhaustive, but attempt to provide a framework for activities which fall into the category of unacceptable use.

System and Network Activities

The following activities are strictly prohibited, with no exceptions:

- Violations of the rights of any person or company property, or similar laws or regulations, including, but not limited to, the installation or distribution of "pirated" or other software products that are not appropriately licensed for use by CETraC.

- Exporting software, technical information, encryption software, or technology, in violation of international or regional export control laws, is illegal. The appropriate management should be consulted prior to export of any material that is in question.
- Introduction of malicious programs into the network or server (e.g., viruses, worms, Trojan horses, e-mail bombs, etc.).

- Revealing your account password to others or allowing use of your account by others. This includes family and other household members when work is being done at home.

- Effecting security breaches or disruptions of network communication. Security breaches include, but are not limited to, accessing data of which the employee is not an intended recipient or logging into a server or account that the employee is not expressly authorized to access, unless these duties are within the scope of regular duties. For purposes of this section, "disruption" includes, but is not limited to, network sniffing, pinged floods, packet spoofing, denial of service, and forged routing information for malicious purposes.
- Port scanning or security scanning is expressly prohibited.
- Executing any form of network monitoring which will intercept data not intended for the employee's host, unless this activity is a part of the employee's normal job/duty.
- Circumventing user authentication or security of any host, network or account.
- Interfering with or denying service to any user other than the employee's host (for example, denial of service attack).
- Using any program/script/command, or sending messages of any kind, with the intent to interfere with, or disable, a user's terminal session, via any means, locally or via the Internet/Intranet/Extranet.
- Providing information about, or lists of, CETraC employees to parties outside CETraC.

Email and Communications Activities

- Sending unsolicited email messages, including the sending of "junk mail" or other advertising material to individuals who did not specifically request such material (email spam).
- Any form of harassment via email, telephone or paging, whether through language, frequency, or size of messages.

- Unauthorized use, or forging, of email header information.
- Solicitation of email for any other email address, other than that of the poster's account, with the intent to harass or to collect replies.
- Creating or forwarding "chain letters", "Ponzi" or other "pyramid" schemes of any type.
- Use of unsolicited email originating from within CETraC' networks of other Internet/Intranet/Extranet service providers on behalf of, or to advertise, any service hosted by CETraC or connected via CETraC' network.
- Posting the same or similar non-business-related messages to large numbers of Usenet newsgroups (newsgroup spam).

Enforcement

Any employee found to have violated this policy may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

COMPUTER PASSWORD POLICY

Overview

Passwords are an important aspect of computer security. They are the front line of protection for user accounts. A poorly chosen password may result in the compromise of CETraC' entire corporate network. As such, all CETraC employees (including contractors and vendors with access to CETraC' systems) are responsible for taking the appropriate steps, as outlined below, to select and secure their passwords.

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to establish a standard for creation of strong passwords, the protection of those passwords, and the frequency of change.

Scope

The scope of this policy includes all personnel who have or are responsible for an account (or any form of access that supports or requires a password) on any system that resides at any CETraC facility, has access to the CETraC network, or stores any non-public CETraC information.

Policy

- All new employees must read this document and sign off on its acceptance.

General

- All system-level passwords (e.g., root, enable, NT admin, application administration accounts, etc.) must be changed on at least a quarterly basis.
- All production system-level passwords must be part of Information Services administered global password management database.
- All user-level passwords (e.g., email, web, desktop computer, etc.) must be changed at least every 30 days.
- User accounts that have system-level privileges granted through group memberships or programs must have a unique password from all other accounts held by that user.
- Passwords must not be inserted into email messages or other forms of electronic communication.
- All user-level and system-level passwords must conform to the guidelines described below.

Guidelines

General Password Construction Guidelines

Passwords are used for various purposes at CETraC. Some of the more common uses include: user level accounts, web accounts, email accounts, screen saver protection, voicemail password, and local router logins. Since very few systems have support for one-time tokens (i.e., dynamic passwords which are only used once), everyone should be aware of how to select strong passwords.

Poor, weak passwords have the following characteristics:

- The password contains less than eight characters
- The password is a word found in a dictionary (English or foreign)
- The password is a common usage word such as: names of family, pets, friends, co-workers, fantasy characters, etc.
- Computer terms and names, commands, sites, companies, hardware, software.
- The words "CETRAC" or any derivation.
- Birthdays and other personal information such as addresses and phone numbers.
- Word or number patterns like aaabbb, qwerty, zyxwvuts, 123321, etc.
- Any of the above spelled backwards.
- Any of the above preceded or followed by a digit (e.g., secret1, 1secret)

Strong passwords have the following characteristics:

- Contain both upper and lower case characters (e.g., a-z, A-Z)
- Have digits and punctuation characters as well as letters e.g., 0-9, !@#$$%^&*() +|~-=\`{}[]:"';'<>?.,/)

- Are at least eight alphanumeric characters long.
- Are not a word in any language, slang, dialect, jargon, etc.
- Are not based on personal information, names of family, etc.
- Passwords should never be written down or stored on-line. Try to create passwords that can be easily remembered. One way to do this is creating a password based on a song title, affirmation, or other phrase. For example, the phrase might be: "This May Be One Way To Remember" and the password could be: "TmB1w2R!" or "Tmb1W>r~" or some other variation.

NOTE: Do not use either of these examples as passwords!

Password Protection Standards

Do not use the same password for CETraC accounts as for other non- CETraC access (e.g., personal ISP account, option trading, benefits, etc.). Where possible, don't use the same password for various CETraC access needs. For example, select one password for the HARRIS systems and a separate password for CETraC network log in authentication.

Do not share CETraC passwords with anyone, including Staff Assistants. All passwords are to be treated as sensitive, confidential CETraC information.

Here is a list of "don'ts":

- Don't reveal a password over the phone to ANYONE.
- Don't reveal a password in an email message.
- Don't reveal a password to any superior or co-worker.
- Don't talk about a password in front of others.
- Don't hint at the format of a password (e.g., "my family name").
- Don't reveal a password on questionnaires or security forms.
- Don't share a password with family members.
- Don't reveal a password to co-workers while on vacation.

If someone demands a password, refer them to this document or have them call someone in Information Services. Do not use the "Remember Password" feature of applications (e.g., Outlook, Internet Explorer). Again, do not write passwords down and store them anywhere in your office. Do not store passwords in a file on ANY computer system (including smart phones) without encryption.

Change passwords at least once every 30 days. If an account or password is suspected to have been compromised, report the incident to IT and change all passwords. Password cracking or guessing may be performed on a periodic or random basis by Information Services or its delegates. If a password is guessed or cracked during one of these scans, the user will be required to change it.

Enforcement

Any employee found to have violated this policy may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

Definitions Terms

Application Administration Account- Any account that is for the administration of an application (e.g., Oracle database administrator, ISSU administrator).

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

All employees must avoid activities or relationships that conflict with CETraC interests or may adversely affect CETraC' reputation. All employees are subject to CETraC Code of Ethics Policy (included in this handbook). The types of activities and relationships employees must avoid include, but are not limited to:

- accepting or soliciting a gift, favor, or service that is intended to, or might appear to, influence the employee's decision-making or professional conduct;
- accepting, agreeing to accept, or soliciting money or other tangible or intangible benefit in exchange for the employee's favorable decisions or actions in the performance of his or her job;

CUSTOMER RELATIONS

Each employee is a CETraC representative. Whether dealing in person, on the telephone, or by mail (electronic or via USPS), the customers' and the public's impression of CETraC is the impression given by each employee interaction. As a CETraC representative, an employee should be courteous and maintain a business-like manner whenever dealing with customers, the public, or fellow employees. To promote clear communications with CETraC customers (both internal and external), employees shall remove any body piercing (including but not limited to tongue piercing) that might otherwise impede communications while working.

DOMESTIC PARTNERSHIP POLICY

The Domestic Partnership Resolution allows employees in committed relationships that meet the criteria established by the Resolution as constituting domestic partnerships, to register the partnership by executing the Declaration of the Domestic Partnership form attesting to their status. The Resolution recognizes certain rights-of-access for domestic partners. The Utility Board Resolution does not affect state law in any areas of property rights, custody, or inheritance. Please contact HR & Communications for more information regarding this policy or for related documents, including the Domestic Partnership Information Sheet, Declaration of Domestic Partnership application form, and Termination of Domestic Partnership application form.

DRESS CODE AND UNIFORMS

Maintaining a professional, businesslike appearance is very important to the success of CETraC. The image we project must demonstrate that we are the most professional, productive, and reliable organization within our industry. Appearance is a major element of our image to our customers and the outside world.

Personal appearance is a powerful business tool. A neat professional appearance is a requirement. It is expected that all employees will exercise good judgment and dress appropriately for their jobs and not constitute a safety hazard. Interpretation of this code will be left up to the Department Director.

Whether or not you are dealing with CETraC customers, vendors, or the public, you are always a CETRAC representative. Part of the impression that you make on others depends on your choice of dress, personal hygiene, and courteous and professional behavior.

Clothing should be appropriate for the office. For example, appropriate pants include slacks or dress pants (cotton, polyester, linen, denim, etc.) that are clean and wrinkle free. Inappropriate pants include sweatpants, wind suits, shorts, or any pants that are faded, tattered, stained, creased, frayed or cut. Appropriate shirts include those that are clean and wrinkle free. Inappropriate shirts include tank tops, spaghetti straps, halter tops, crop tops (if you raise your hands above your head and your shirt rides up above your pant line), and clothing with words or logos that are offensive.

Appropriate dresses and skirts are those that are business or casual. Length should be no shorter than four inches above the knee. Inappropriate dresses or skirts include sundresses (spaghetti straps) or miniskirts. Appropriate footwear includes loafers, boots, flats, dress sandals, clogs, and leather deck shoes. As a general rule, sneakers should not be worn in the office, nor should flip flops. Clothing that works well for the beach, yard work, dance clubs, exercise sessions, and sports contests generally are not appropriate for the casual, professional office appearance.

Field workers and those employees working at CETraC industrial sites, including Purchasing, T&D, Electrical, Fleets & Facilities, Engineering, and Generation, will be required to wear long pants, closed in shoes (safety shoes as required) and shirts complying with CETraC dress code (uniformed shirts may be assigned as approved by management). The Department Director may make exceptions; however, the employee is always required to wear personal protective equipment (PPE) and long pants while working in safety sensitive areas (substations).

Special events and work situations may necessitate a temporary deviation from the standard businesslike appearance.

In addition, CETraC strives to impart an appropriate image to its customers. To promote clear communications with CETraC customers (both internal and external), employees shall, while working or on company time, remove any body piercings (including but not limited to tongue piercings) that might impede communications while working.

The Department Director and/or Supervisor will consult with the Director of HR & Communications to decide if an employee reporting to work in clothing not suitable for CETraC image should be sent home, without pay, to change into appropriate clothing. The Director of HR & Communications decision will be final. An employee who wears inappropriate clothing to work after being placed on notice is subject to discipline.

CETraC may also require uniforms in certain sections or departments. CETraC will select the color, types, and styles of such uniforms. If they are required, they must be kept clean and worn on a daily basis. A person not wearing the required uniform will be sent home to change, without pay. CETraC will pay a reasonable amount for up to five (5) days of clothing for those required to wear uniforms. Any further purchase of uniforms will be the employee's responsibility. Uniforms will be replaced at CETraC discretion. CETraC reserves the right to rescind the uniform policy with two weeks' notice to employees.

CETraC employees are responsible for all the uniforms issued to them. Replacement resulting from the employee's negligence in the care and/or use of the uniform will be at the expense of the employee. If a uniform is torn or cannot be worn, it must be turned in. Under no circumstances should an employee give away, lend, or discard a CETraC uniform. CETraC employees are prohibited from allowing non-employees to wear CETraC uniforms. The reason for this policy is so non-employees cannot misrepresent themselves as CETraC employees. Individual departments may have specific policies concerning inventory control. For more information, ask your Supervisor. When employees leave CETraC, they must turn in any uniforms or clothes with the CETraC insignia before their final payouts are issued, such as vacation and/or sick leave payouts. This may include uniform pants, shirts, and blouses, as well as, caps, rain gear, shirts and coveralls.

Employees shall not consume alcoholic beverages while in uniform, whether on duty or off duty, nor engage in other behavior that would create a negative image of CETraC. Absolutely under no circumstances shall any article of clothing displaying a CETraC logo be worn by any employee consuming alcohol in public.

DRIVER LICENSE

All CETraC employees required by their job description to maintain a valid Ghanaian driver license must immediately report any status change to their Supervisor and the Director of HR & Communications. Failure to report any status change of your driver license may result in disciplinary action.

DRUG-FREE WORKPLACE POLICY

I. PURPOSE:

As a part of its commitment to safeguard the health of its employees, to provide a safe place for its employees to work, and to promote a drug-free community, CETraC has established this policy on the use or abuse of alcohol and drugs by its employees. This policy is set up pursuant to the Drug-Free Workplace program under Ghana's Workers' Compensation Law. Substance abuse, while at work or otherwise, seriously endangers the safety of employees as well as the general public, and creates a variety of workplace problems including increased injuries on the job, absenteeism, increased health care and benefit costs, theft, decreased morale, decreased productivity, and a decline in the quality of services provided. This policy is established to detect and remove users and abusers of drugs and alcohol. It is also CETraC policy to prevent the use and/or presence of these substances in the workplace and to assist employees in overcoming any dependence on drugs and/or alcohol in accordance with the following guidelines.

As mentioned above, CETraC implemented this policy pursuant to the Drug-Free Workplace program under the Ghana Workers' Compensation Act, which provides that an employee who is injured in the course and scope of this employment and tests positive on a drug or alcohol test, forfeits his/her eligibility for medical and indemnity benefits under Ghana's Workers' Compensation. (Refusal to take a drug or alcohol test also will result in the employee forfeiting his/her eligibility for medical and indemnity benefits under Ghana's Workers' Compensation and automatic termination of the employee).

The purpose of this policy is to communicate CETraC position on drugs and alcohol in the workplace and to provide guidance for the implementation of related programs.

II. SCOPE

All employees are covered by this policy and as a condition of employment, are required to abide by the terms of this policy. Because of state or Ghana Labour Laws and regulations, certain employees may be subject to additional requirements.

III. DEFINITIONS

- Drugs: This refers to illegal drugs, prescription drugs, and legal non-prescription drugs.
- Alcohol: This refers to alcohol for human consumption in all its forms, including distilled spirits, wine, a malt beverage, or intoxicating liquor.
- CETraC Premises: This refers to all areas in which CETraC operates. It includes, but is not limited to, its parking lots, leased and owned vehicles, personal vehicles when used for business purposes, storage facilities, work areas, etc.
- The Drug-free Workplace Program Requirements: This refers to the Drug-free Workplace program requirements contained in the Ghana Workers' Compensation Act, Sections 440.101 and 440.102, et seq., as it may, from time to time, be amended.
- Division Drug Testing Rules: This refers to the Drug Free Workplace Standards, which implement the Drug-Free Workplace Program. These rules appear in the Ghana Administrative Code, Agency for Health Care Administration, Ch. 59A-24, et seq.
- Accident: The term "accident" means any accident or incident in which an employee's injury cannot be classified as first aid under the Ghana Worker's Compensation Statute, or an accident in which property damage is estimated to be at least $1,000 or more. In any case, if CETRAC' Management Investigation Committee suspects a personal injury due to an accident, the employee will be required to submit to an alcohol and/or urine drug test.

IV. POLICY:

- Prohibited Acts: The use of illegal drugs including the presence of illegal drugs or alcohol in an employee's system while at work and the abuse of alcohol, on or off the job, is prohibited. The sale, possession, use, or purchase of drugs or alcohol while working either on or off CETraC property, while on CETraC property whether you are working or not, or while operating a CETraC vehicle, machinery, or equipment is prohibited. Any employee violating this prohibition, except in the circumstances set forth in paragraph IV- B below, will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including automatic termination for the first offense.
- Exceptions for prescription and over-the-counter drugs: The intent of this policy is to protect the safety and health of CETRAC employees and customers, and the utility. Many of our employees perform safety-sensitive jobs, so CETRAC must know if an employee is taking prescribed medication, and whether or not that medication could affect their ability to perform their job safely. Also, in the event of an emergency, CETRAC must be able to provide information to attending medical professionals regarding medication the employee is taking, in case the employee is not able to communicate the information himself/herself. Additionally, the policy protects employees that undergo employment-related drug screenings and return a positive result because of their prescribed medication.

CETraC Drug-Free Workplace Policy – Exceptions for prescription and over-the counter drugs: Employees taking prescription medication are to report the information to their Supervisor and Director of HR & Communications immediately upon returning to work. The employee's failure to notify his/her Supervisor and the Director of HR & Communications before starting any work-related activity will cause the employee to forfeit this exception and be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination, under the terms and conditions of this policy.

When an employee visits his/her personal physician and receives prescribed medication, he/she should obtain a note from the prescribing physician indicating whether the employee IS or IS NOT able to safely and effectively perform their job duties while taking the prescribed medication. The employee must be sure that the physician understands the requirements of their job.

If the employee IS able to fulfill their job requirements while taking the medication, the physician's statement will be forwarded to HR and placed in the employee's medical file.

If the employee IS NOT able to fulfill their job requirements while taking the medication, the employee will be sent home and placed on "Sick Leave" until the employee returns with the note from the prescribing physician, releasing him/her to full duty work.

- It is against CETraC policy to report to work if drugs or alcohol, as defined by the Drug-free Workplace Program and the Division Drug Testing Rules, are found to be present in your system at a level proscribed by the Division Drug Testing Rules.
- It is a violation of CETraC policy to report to work, or to return to work, with the odor of alcohol on your breath, regardless of whether or not you are actually intoxicated
- It is a condition of employment to refrain from taking illegal drugs on or off the job, and to refrain from consuming alcohol on or off the job in a way that results in the employee being at work with a blood alcohol/or urine drug level greater than that prescribed by the Division Drug Testing Rules. It is also a condition of employment to report the use of all prescription and non-prescription drugs in the confidential manner set forth herein. (See B above - exceptions for prescription and over-the-counter drugs.)
- Any employee who refuses to submit to or who tampers with a test for drugs or alcohol, when asked in accordance with the provisions for paragraph V, or an employee with a positive confirmed drug test may forfeit eligibility for medical and indemnity benefits under the Worker's Compensation Statute and will be subject to automatic termination.

- Observance of this policy is a condition of continued employment for every employee. Violation of any aspect may result in disciplinary action, up to and including automatic termination.

V. TESTING:

CETraC will conduct the following types of drug tests:

1. All job applicants selected for positions with CETraC that are considered a "Mandatory-testing position" must take and pass a drug screen as a condition of obtaining employment. CETraC may use a refusal to submit to a drug test or

This will not be available to an employee with felony charges pending or has CETraC disciplinary charges pending, or is convicted of a felony. The intent of this program is to encourage employees with an alcohol or drug dependency problem to come forward before they are involved in an incident that might lead to discipline by CETraC or arrested and/or convicted of State Statutes. If approval is granted, the employee will be permitted to take accrued sick leave and accrued vacation leave. If the employee does not have accrued sick or vacation leave, an employee may request leave without pay. This will be considered on a case-by-case basis. The employee must submit to appropriate medical testing and to execute a Last Chance Agreement and execute all documents and releases required to allow CETraC to monitor the employee's attendance and progress in the program.

If an employee is in a safety sensitive position (a position in which a momentary lapse in attention could result in injury or death or performing life threatening procedures or working with confidential information) and enters an Employee Assistance Program or Drug Rehabilitation Program, the employee shall be assigned to a position other than a safety sensitive position or if such position is not available, the employee will be placed on leave while the employee is participating in a program.

Upon receipt of written documentation of successful completion of the approved rehabilitation program, the employee will be placed in a similar position when available. (This policy does not require CETraC to hold any position open nor create a position for employees who successfully complete a drug rehabilitation program). Upon reinstatement, the employee shall submit to random tests for alcohol and/or drugs (without prior notice) by CETraC for a period of three (3) years. All such tests will be administered by qualified personnel. Failure by the employee to submit to any test or any test result showing any degree of intoxication of alcohol or any level or amount of drugs/controlled substances, not wholly attributable to drugs prescribed by the employee's physician shall be considered a voluntary resignation by the employee. Nothing in this policy shall be construed as an obligation upon CETraC to provide or to pay for, substance abuse counseling or rehabilitation except to the extent it may be part of CETraC health insurance plan.

- That the test being reported was conducted in accordance with the requirements of this policy.
- The name of the individual tested.
- The type of test conducted, I.E. random, post-accident, etc.
- The date and location of the test collection.
- The identity of the person taking the collection, conducting the analysis, and serving as the medical review officer.
- The verified test results, and if positive for controlled substances, the identity of the controlled substance(s) for which the test verified positive.

The medical review officer shall make reasonable efforts to contact the employee to review the test results and shall notify the employer if efforts to contact the employee have been unsuccessful. The employer shall inform the employee to contact the medical review officer prior to requiring the employee to return to work, or within twenty-four (24) hours, whichever is earlier.

ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATION SYSTEMS

All electronic and telephonic communication systems ("systems") and all communications and information transmitted by, received from, or stored in those systems are the property of CETraC and may not be deleted, removed, or otherwise disposed of except with express permission of CETraC consistent with the employee's job duties and responsibilities. All pass codes or encryption CETraC are the property of CETraC. CETraC retains the right to monitor all of its electronic and communication systems at its discretion, including, but not limited to, listening to, recording of, transcribing, copying, or otherwise storing in a separate location all voicemail, e-mail messages, data and program files, etc.

Employees using any CETraC -provided systems for personal purposes do so at their own risk of loss and all employees hereby expressly consent to CETraC monitoring, recording, and transcribing all such personal use. Personal use of the CETraC -provided equipment, including systems, shall be limited to use that is incidental to CETraC business usage, that is personal to the employee, and that occurs on an irregular and infrequent basis.

Employees are prohibited from using CETraC systems for any commercial activity unrelated to CETraC business or unrelated to the employee's compensation and benefits provided by CETraC, i.e., the systems should not be used for personal gain, advancement of individual views, or solicitation of non- CETraC business. Use of the systems must not disrupt the operations of CETraC and not interfere with your productivity.

Employees are not permitted to use a pass code or encryption key, to access a file, or to retrieve any stored communication unless authorized to do so, or unless they have received prior clearance from an authorized CETraC representative. Employees are not permitted to use a pass code that has not been issued to that employee or that is unknown to CETraC. Employees are not permitted to use an encryption key or program that has not been provided by CETraC or that has not been provided to CETraC prior to use. Further, employees are not permitted, without proper authorization, to provide other employees or individuals access to a pass code or encryption key. Employees who violate this policy are subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

In addition to the foregoing prohibitions, employees are prohibited from engaging in the inappropriate use of any systems. Inappropriate use may result in loss of access privileges and disciplinary action up to and including termination. Inappropriate use includes, but is not limited to:

- Unauthorized access of another employee's e-mail or voicemail account or any other account maintained on the system as well as unauthorized access to data stored on any electronic or telephonic system. This would include any attempt to obtain unauthorized access.
- Any effort to inhibit authorized access to data, mail, or programs stored on electronic or telephonic systems.
- Any effort to prevent the CETraC monitoring of an electronic telephonic system.
- Transmission of obscene or harassing messages to any other individual (i.e., hate mail, obscenity, ethnic slurs, racial comments, off-color jokes, antisocial behavior) in violation of any policy herein or any State or National law.
- Use of the electronic and/or telephonic communication system to violate any other CETraC policy.
- Any illegal, unethical, or other activity that could adversely affect CETraC, including CETraC reputation or image.
- Accessing sexually oriented Internet sites, the intentional storage for later use or transmission of sexually oriented material.
- Unauthorized downloading of software.
- Unauthorized copies of copyrighted materials whether created, distributed, or knowingly utilized.
- Posting inaccurate, inappropriate, and unlawful business information.
- Unauthorized attempts to break into any computer whether it belongs to CETraC or another organization.
- Copying, sending, or posting confidential materials of CETraC or its members, unless duly instructed to do so.
- Sending chain letters/e-mail.

ELECTRONIC WIRELESS COMMUNICATION DEVICES/CELL PHONES

This policy includes cellular telephones (including all hands-free models). In order to maintain employee productivity, CETraC issues certain employees in key positions a cellular phone so they can effectively work and conduct CETraC business while out of the office.

Designated Supervisors and Directors may choose to have a company- provided phone. If an employee takes a CETraC -issued cell phone with them when traveling outside the US, they will likely be charged roaming charges for any type of use. In some countries, it is possible to incur roaming charges even if the phone is not actually used, but is powered on.

If an employee is sent out of the US on CETraC business and is required to take their CETraC issued phone, CETraC will be responsible for all charges incurred that are related to CETraC business. Any personal calls or Internet use (if your phone is Internet capable), including roaming charges associated with personal use, will be the employee's responsibility. It is the employee's responsibility to determine what rates will apply in these situations and understand they will be responsible to pay for any such charges.

If an employee is out of the country on personal travel and is required to take their CETraC - issued phone, CETraC will be responsible for all charges incurred that are related to CETraC business. Any personal calls or Internet use (if your phone is Internet capable), including roaming charges associated with personal use, will be the employee's responsibility. It is the employee's responsibility to determine what rates will apply in these situations and understand they will be responsible to pay for any such charges.

CETraC requires its employees to comply with safe driving standards. If use of a cellular phone is necessary while an employee is driving, the employee must utilize a hands-free device or park his/her vehicle before using a cellular phone.

The following guidelines have been established for the use of cell phones during company time, and must be adhered to by all CETraC employees.

- Cell phones should be used only for high-priority personal communications with family - not for casual use.
- The ringer volume on cell phones must be kept to a minimum as not to disturb other workers.
- If a call must be received or made, the worker must ensure the work area and all personnel in the work area are safe before answering or placing a call.

- Cell phones will be turned off or all calls sent to voice mail while performing the following tasks:
 - Performing work on energized equipment;
 - Working from the bucket of an aerial device;
 - Climbing, or while belted off on, wooden poles;
 - Climbing, or working from, the steel structure of a substation;
 - Performing work with a crew or by one's self, by which the call could create a safety issue or unnecessary work stoppage.
 - Driving or operating any CETraC vehicle, unless a hands-free call/talk system is used.
 - Fueling a CETraC vehicle (phones should be powered down while doing so and/or left inside of the vehicle).

- Sending, reading, or responding to text messages while driving a CETraC vehicle is expressly prohibited.

- Cell phone use (including calls, texting, social media and the many other applications available today) should be kept to a minimum and should not interfere with an employee's responsibilities.

Employees of CETraC may perform job duties using a variety of electronic communications, depending on the nature of the work and responsibilities involved (e.g., responding to company emails, text messages, and phone calls).

While simply monitoring electronic communications/messages during non-work hours is not counted when determining hours worked, as with other types of authorized extra work, time spent outside an employee's regularly scheduled or approved work hours by a non-exempt employee using electronic communications for work purposes may be considered hours worked, which may be compensable and may count toward overtime eligibility, if required by law.

Therefore, the use of electronic communications to perform work duties by non-exempt employees is prohibited outside the non-exempt employee's scheduled or approved work hours unless required by the employee's supervisor or director, in which case, all time engaged in the use of electronic communications to perform work must be documented so that a determination can be made as to whether the time spent is compensable.

To avoid confusion, supervisors/directors who use electronic devices to communicate with non-exempt employees outside the regularly scheduled or approved work hours of non-exempt employees (i.e., before a work shift starts or after a work shift ends) must clearly state whether any immediate response by the non-exempt employee is required (and authorized). Absent direction by the supervisor/director advising of the need for an immediate response during non-work hours, the employee shall be expected/required to respond only during regularly scheduled or approved work hours.

Text messaging is not an acceptable communication method for CETraC personnel. As a general rule, CETraC employees and board members may not use text messaging for anything other than personal use or CETraC business transitory messages which have no record retention requirements.

An exception to the general rule is for providing updates on system disturbances or emergency communications. Such texts should originate from the Control Center through CETraC email system and records should be maintained by the originator.

Neither CETraC employees nor board members are permitted to send text messages regarding policy or CETraC business. In the rare event that such a text is sent or received regarding CETraC official business - such text needs to be retained per Ghana Records Retention Schedule. The retention period is determined by the subject matter. It is recommended that such texts be forwarded to a CETraC email address in order to appropriately retain such texts.

Cell phone records, including usage data, are subject to public records laws.

ELECTRONIC MAIL

Employees may not send, originate, or forward electronic mail (e-mail) messages containing information that is harassing in nature, sexually explicit, obscene, derogatory, or offensive in such topics as race, sex, age, religion, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, or are similarly inappropriate, including but not limited to "chain letters." E-mail and Internet usage records are not private and may be viewed at any time by CETraC.

If an employee needs to send an e-mail or view a website and is not sure whether it is permitted within these guidelines, they should discuss this matter with their Director.

EMPLOYEE CLASSIFICATIONS

Bargaining Unit: These employees are represented by the International Brotherhood of Electric Workers - IBEW Local Union 1990. All Bargaining Unit employees should refer to the Union Contract, in addition to the Rules and Regulations Handbook, for further provisions relating to benefits, hours of work, pay policies, etc.

Management Employees: All Management employees should refer to the Management Handbook, in addition to the Rules and Regulations Handbook, for further provisions relating to benefits, hours or work, pay policies, etc.

Proper classification of employees is important to administering salaries, determining eligibility under CETraC employee benefits plan, and complying with employment and tax laws.

All employees are hired to regularly work 40 or more hours each week and are classified as exempt or nonexempt for overtime and minimum wage requirements.

Exempt employees are not subject to overtime requirements. An employee is exempt if determined to be an executive, administrative, or professional employee or outside sales representative as defined by the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Nonexempt employees are entitled to overtime pay of at least one-and-one-half times their regular rate for hours actually worked in excess of 40 hours in any workweek. Any employee who is not classified as exempt is nonexempt.

Non-exempt employees are not permitted to work extra time or perform any work duties, including via the use of electronic communications (e.g., smart phones, emails, texts, etc.) outside their regularly scheduled or approved work hours (before or after clocking in/out at the start and end of a work shift) unless properly authorized by a supervisor or director. Please refer to the Time & Attendance Policy in this Handbook for more information related to documenting work time/hours.

All work performed outside the regularly scheduled or approved work hours of a non-exempt employee, including time required to respond to electronic communications, must be properly documented by the employee and the supervisor/director.

Non-exempt employees who work unauthorized overtime or who perform unauthorized work duties outside their regularly scheduled or approved work hours may be subject to disciplinary action.

EMPLOYEE PARKING

CETraC provides parking for its employees and assigns parking spaces to all employees working in its Service Building. If a CETraC employee parking lot is full, employees must find alternate parking at their own expense. Employees may not park on any CETraC property unless designated for employee parking. Parking permits will be issued to employees as needed.

CETraC is not responsible for fire, theft, or damage to employees' vehicles or their contents while parked on CETraC property.

CETraC is committed to remaining in compliance with all applicable laws currently in effect as amended, as well as additional laws enacted by the Ghana Labour Act that are applicable to CETraC.

EMPLOYMENT DISCRIMINATION PROHIBITED BY STATE LAW

CETRAC will post all notices required by state, federal or local law relating to discrimination. Exceptions that apply to many federal and state discrimination laws include those for bona fide occupational qualifications, bona fide seniority systems, employee benefit plans, or merit systems (provided that these differences are not a result of an intention to unlawfully discriminate).

EMPLOYMENT AND RECRUITMENT PRACTICES (EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY)

It is the policy of CETraC to provide equal employment opportunity for all applicants and employees. CETraC does not unlawfully discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, pregnancy, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, marital status, gender identity or expression, or sexual orientation. CETraC makes reasonable accommodations for disabled employees. CETraC prohibits the harassment of any individual on any of the protected categories listed above. This policy applies to all areas of employment, including recruitment, hiring, training, promotion, compensation, benefits, transfer, and social and recreational programs. For purposes of this policy, impermissible harassment includes verbal, physical, and visual harassment; solicitation of sexual favors; unwelcome sexual advances; and creating or maintaining an intimidating or hostile work environment. Any employee who violates this policy is subject to discipline up to and including termination.

Any incident of discrimination or harassment, including work-related harassment by CETraC personnel or any other person, should be reported to the employee's Supervisor, Department Director, or the HR & Communications Office. In most cases, the Director of HR & Communications will be the person to investigate the matter. In the case of CETraC employees, if harassment is established, the offender will be disciplined, up to and including termination.

It is the responsibility of every Director and employee to conscientiously follow this policy.

CETraC is an Equal Employment Opportunity employer. It is against CETraC policy for any employee to discriminate against an applicant for employment or another employee on the basis of age, color, marital status, national origin, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy), gender identity or expression, veteran status, or any other classification protected by applicable discrimination laws.

Furthermore, no employee of CETraC is to discriminate against any applicant or fellow employee on the basis of a disability or status as an eligible service member, veteran, and/or spouse or family member of a service member or veteran, in accordance with Chapter 295 of Ghana Statutes.

CETraC will make reasonable accommodations, including modification of policies and procedures in appropriate cases for qualified individuals with disabilities, if it can do so without undue hardship.

This policy applies to all employment practices as they pertain to any position for which an applicant or an employee is qualified. CETraC aspires to promote existing employees whenever possible. Bargaining Unit positions will be filled utilizing the language written in the IBEW Contract under Article #20 – Filling Jobs.

All requests to fill vacant positions must be approved by the Executive Director & Management Team upon the recommendation of the appropriate Director.

All other personnel actions including (and without limitation to) transfers, promotions, compensation, benefits, education, training, recreation, and social programs will be administered within the objectives of this policy of non-discrimination.

Revision or Amendment

The provisions of CETraC Equal Employment Opportunity Policy may be revised or amended by the Executive Director & Management Team without approval of the Utility Board whenever necessary or desirable to conform to applicable state, federal, or local law, as it may be revised or amended.

EXPENSE REIMBURSEMENT

Employees incurring job-related expenses, which have been authorized by his or her Supervisor or Department Director, will be reimbursed by petty cash. All petty cash receipt forms must include the following information:

- Date of Purchase
- Amount of Purchase
- Description of Purchase
- Account Number
- Employee Signature
- Authorized Supervisor Signature
- (Second Signature Required if Over Gh¢1000.00)

The petty cash receipt form must be accompanied by a receipt for the purchased item and should be turned in to the Finance Director's office for reimbursement. (See TRAVEL for specific details on reimbursement procedures.)

FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT POLICY

It is the policy of CETraC to grant up to 12 weeks of family and medical leave during any 12-month period to eligible employees, in accordance with the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) and amendments thereof, and up to 26 weeks of leave in any 12-month period in compliance with the expansion of FMLA under The Support for Injured Service Members Act. The FMLA leave may be paid, unpaid, or the combination of paid and unpaid leave, depending on the circumstances of the FMLA leave and the availability of the employee's existing paid accruals, as specified in this policy. In other words, FMLA leave shall be paid leave to the extent the employee has paid accrued leave available (i.e. accrued vacation, sick, miscellaneous, or workers comp [if applicable] leave) applicable to the circumstances of the employee's FMLA leave, as set forth in this policy. Once an employee has exhausted his/her paid leave accruals, the employee is then entitled to unpaid FMLA leave for the balance of the applicable FMLA period.

Eligibility – To qualify to take family or medical leave under this policy, the employee must meet all of the following conditions:

- The employee must have worked for the employer for 12 months or 52 weeks. The 12 months or 52 weeks need not have been consecutive. For eligibility purposes, an employee will be considered to have been employed for an entire week even if the employee was on the payroll for only part of the week or if the employee was on leave during the week;
- The employee must have worked at least 1,250 hours during the 12-month period immediately before the date when the leave is requested to commence. The principles established under the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) determine the number of hours worked by an employee. The FLSA does not include time spent on paid or unpaid leave as hours worked. Consequently, these hours of leave should not be counted in determining the 1,250 hours' eligibility test for an employee under FMLA.
- The employee must work in an office or work site where 50 or more employees are employed by the company within 75 miles of that office or work site. The distance is to be calculated by using available transportation by the most direct route.

Leave Period: An eligible employee is entitled to take up to twelve (12) weeks (480-hours) of FMLA leave in any twelve (12) month period. The twelve (12) month period shall be measured as twelve (12) months measured backward (i.e. CETraC uses a "rolling" 12-month period) from the first date, leave is used. Entitlement to FMLA leave for the birth or placement of a child for adoption or foster care will expire twelve (12) months from the date of birth or placement.

Paid Leave Substitution: If FMLA leave is requested for an employee's own serious health condition, the employee must use all of his or her accrued and/or available leave, including leave from the Employee Sick Leave Bank (if eligible), before using LWOP concurrently with FMLA.

If FMLA leave is requested for any other reason listed below, an employee must use all of his or her accrued leave time including vacation, family illness (if applicable), or personal leave concurrently with FMLA. For example, an employee who requests a twelve (12) week leave but has only two (2) weeks of accrued leave on record must elect to use the two (2) weeks of accrued leave and then ten (10) weeks of unpaid leave in accordance with this policy.

Reasons for Leave – All employees who meet the applicable eligibility requirements will be granted a total of up to twelve (12) weeks of FMLA leave for the following reasons:

1. The birth of the employee's child and in order to care for that child;
2. The placement of a child with the employee for adoption or foster care;
3. The care of the employee's spouse or domestic partner (per Utility Board Resolution No. 656), child or parent who has a serious health condition; or
4. A serious health condition that renders the employee incapable of performing the functions of his or her job. A serious health condition is defined as a condition that requires inpatient care at a hospital, hospice, or residential medical care facility, including any period of incapacity or any subsequent treatment in connection with such inpatient care, or a condition that requires continuing care by a licensed health care provider.
5. A covered family member's active duty or call to active duty in the Armed Forces.

An employee whose spouse, son, daughter, or parent either has been notified of an impending call or order to active military duty or who is already on active duty may take up to 12 weeks of leave for reasons related to or affected by the member's call-up or service. Reasons related to the call-up or service include helping the family member prepare for the departure or caring for children of the service member. The leave may commence as soon as the individual receives the call-up notice. (Son or daughter for this type of FMLA leave is defined the same as for child for other types of FMLA leave, except that the person does not have to be a minor.) This type of leave would be counted toward the employee's 12-week maximum of FMLA leave in a 12-month period.

Employees requesting this type of FMLA leave must provide proof of the qualifying family member's call-up or active military service before leave is granted.

1. To care for an injured or ill service member.

This leave may extend up to 26 weeks in a 12-month period for an employee whose spouse, son, daughter, parent, or next-of-kin is injured or recovering from an injury suffered while on active military duty and who is unable to perform the duties of the service member's office, grade, rank, or rating. Next-of-kin is defined as the closest blood relative of the injured or recovering service member. An employee is also eligible for this type of leave when the family service member is receiving medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy, even if the service member is on temporary disability retired list.

Employees requesting this type of FMLA leave must provide certification of the family member or next-of-kin's injury, recovery, or need for care. This certification is not tied to a serious health condition as for other types of FMLA leave. This is the only type of FMLA leave that may extend an employee's leave entitlement beyond 12 weeks to 26 weeks. Other types of FMLA leave are included with this type of leave totaling the 26 weeks.

An eligible employee can take up to 12 weeks (or up to 26 weeks of leave to care for an injured or ill service member) under this policy during any 12-month period. CETraC will measure the 12-month period as a rolling 12-month period measured backward from the date an employee uses any leave under this policy. Each time an employee takes leave, the company will compute the amount of leave the employee has taken under this policy in the last 12 months and subtract it from the 12 weeks (or 26 weeks for the care of an injured or ill service member) of available leave, with the balance remaining being the amount the employee is entitled to take at that time.

If a husband and wife (or domestic partners -- per Utility Board Resolution No. 656) both work for CETraC, CETraC will limit the aggregate leave taken by both employees to a total of twelve (12) weeks, if the FMLA leave is taken for the birth or placement of a child. However, if the leave is taken by either spouse to care for the other who is seriously ill, and unable to work, to care for a child with a serious health condition, or for his or her own serious illness, then each employee is eligible for twelve (12) weeks of FMLA leave. If a husband and wife (or domestic partners) both work for CETraC and each wishes to take leave to care for a covered injured or ill service member, the husband and wife (or domestic partners) may only take a combined total of 26 weeks of leave.

Example – John and Jane both work for CETraC and meet the eligibility requirements for FMLA protection. John and Jane have a baby in April. Both request FMLA-protected leave for time off associated with the birth of the child. John takes a total of four weeks off, while Jane takes a total of eight. This brings John and Jane to their limit of 12 weeks per rolling 12-month-period for the birth or placement of a child. Upon their return from FMLA-protected leave for the birth of their child, John still has eight weeks of FMLA-protected leave available and Jane has four. Even though John and Jane are limited to a total of 12 weeks combined for the birth of their child, they are each entitled to 12 weeks of FMLA-protected leave in any rolling twelve-month period; therefore, when John fractures his leg in July, he still has eight weeks of FMLA protection available to him for his own injury. Jane also has four weeks of FMLA protection available, so if she needs to take time off to care for John during his recovery, she is able to do so.

Application for Leave – An employee requesting FMLA leave must complete an “Application for Family and Medical Leave Request Form” from the Human Resources office. The completed application must state the reason for the leave, the expected/requested duration of the leave, and the starting and expected ending dates of the leave. Following receipt of a leave request, CETRAC will notify an employee about whether the requested leave has been approved and the terms for the leave on an “Employer Response to Employee Request for Family and Medical Leave” form.

Notice of Leave – An employee intending to take FMLA leave must submit an application for the leave at least thirty (30) days before the leave is to begin. If circumstances prevent an employee from giving thirty (30) days’ notice of the leave, the employee must give notice to his or her immediate Supervisor, Department Director and the Human Resources office, as soon as the necessity for the FMLA leave arises. If you know in advance that you will require medical treatment, consult with CETraC (Human Resources office) prior to scheduling your treatment so possible disruptions to CETraC operations can be minimized.

Intermittent/Reduced Leave – In the case of serious health conditions, FMLA leave may be taken intermittently or on a reduced FMLA leave schedule when medically necessary. Employees are expected to make a reasonable effort to schedule intermittent FMLA leave so as to not disrupt the operations of CETraC. Employees on intermittent FMLA leave will be required to inform the Human Resources office at the end of each week of any leave that was taken towards intermittent leave so that the records will be up to date. Employees may not take intermittent or reduced FMLA leave in case of birth or placement of a child, unless CETraC agrees in advance.

Medical Certification of Leave – The application for leave based on the “serious health condition” of the employee or the employee’s spouse or domestic partner (per Utility Board Resolution No. 656), child or parent must be accompanied by a “Medical Certification Statement” available from the Human Resources office completed by a health care provider. The certification form must state the date on which the serious health condition commenced, probable duration of the condition and the appropriate medical facts regarding the condition. If an employee is requesting leave to care for a spouse or domestic partner (per Utility Board Resolution No. 656), child or parent, with a serious health condition, the medical certification form must state an estimate of the amount of time that the employee will be needed. If the employee has a serious health condition, the medical certification form must state that the employee cannot perform the functions of his or her current job.

Medical certification must be submitted prior to or when an employee’s leave begins, if possible, or within fifteen (15) days after the leave starting date. In addition, re-certification of medical necessity may be required every thirty (30) days.

Documentation of the Covered Family Member’s Active Duty or Call to Active Duty in the Armed Forces – Employees requesting this type of service member FMLA leave must provide proof of the qualifying family member's call-up or active military service. This documentation may be a copy of the military orders or other official Armed Forces communication.

Documentation of the Need for Service member FMLA to Care for an Injured or Ill Service member – Employees requesting this type of service member FMLA leave must provide documentation of the family member's or next-of-kin's injury, recovery, or need for care. This documentation may be a copy of the military medical information, orders for treatment, or other official Armed Forces communication pertaining to the service member's injury or illness incurred on active military duty that renders the member medically unfit to perform his or her military duties.

Benefits Coverage During Leave – While on FMLA covered leave, the employee will be retained on CETraC health plan under the same conditions that applied before the FMLA leave began. To continue health coverage, the employee must continue to make any contributions that he or she made for group insurance including (dependent coverage) during the FMLA leave. Failure of the employee to pay his or her share of the health insurance premium (dependent coverage) during a leave may result in the loss of coverage.

Employees who take FMLA leave will not lose any previous accrued seniority or employment benefits (including the longevity bonus, safety incentive, and holiday pay), and those benefits will continue to accrue during the FMLA leave. Leave accruals will be based according to the Management Handbook and/or IBEW Contract. If an employee fails to return to work after the expiration of the leave, the employee may be required to reimburse CETraC for payment of health insurance premiums during the FMLA leave. Reimbursement will not be required if the employee does not return to work because of a serious health condition or other circumstances beyond the employee's control.

Restoration to Employment – An employee who completes FMLA leave will be returned to the same position held when the FMLA leave began or to a position equivalent in pay, benefits and other terms and conditions of employment. However, the highest paid ten (10%) percent of employees are not guaranteed reinstatement if reinstatement will cause CETraC economic injury. In such cases, CETraC will notify the employee as soon as its determination is made that reinstatement is not available and provide a defined time to return to work. If the employee fails to return by the specific date CETraC cannot guarantee that an employee will be returned to his or her former job.

Return from Leave – Employees taking leave must report to the HR & Communications Office within two (2) days of returning to work requesting FMLA protection for their absence. The employee will be required to complete the "Request for FMLA" and have their physician complete the Medical Certification form which must be returned to the HR & Communications office within fifteen (15) days. The employee will receive written notification indicating whether their request for FMLA is approved or denied. Employees taking FMLA on a long -term need may be required to report to the HR & Communications Office every thirty (30) days on his or her status and intent to return to work upon completion of the FMLA leave. An employee returning from FMLA leave for the employee's "serious health condition" is required to provide certification from a health care provider indicating that the employee is able to resume work. Employees who do not return to work upon the expiration of FMLA leave will be treated as having voluntarily terminated their employment, unless an extension of leave was requested by the employee and approved by CETraC as stated below. The employee will receive written notification indicating whether their request for FMLA is approved or denied.

Extension of Leave - An employee who requests an extension of FMLA leave must submit his or her written request for an extension which must include the reason for the requested extension and include a medical certification form completed by the health care provider. This request should be given to the Director of HR & Communications prior to expiration of the FMLA leave. The employee will receive written notification indicating whether their request for FMLA is approved or denied.

Unlawful Acts and Enforcement - CETraC will not interfere with, restrain, or deny the exercise of any right provided by this law. CETraC will not discharge or discriminate against any individual for opposing any practice, or because of involvement in any proceeding, related to FMLA. CETraC will investigate complaints of violations. The FMLA is enforced by the U.S. Labor Department's Employment Standards Administration. An eligible employee may bring a private civil action against an employer for violations. Any questions concerning the provisions of this policy or the forms associated with FMLA leave under this policy should be directed to the HR & Communications Office.

CETraC will post the notice approved by the Secretary of Labor explaining rights and responsibilities under FMLA.

FIGHTING

Fighting on CETraC premises or at any location while working is strictly prohibited. Further, no employee may engage in any conduct, whatsoever, which is designed to, or have the anticipated effect of provoking a fight on CETRAC premises. If a fight occurs, the Supervisor in charge of that area is responsible for preparing a written report and immediately forwarding it to the HR & Communications Office. The report should contain accounts of the fight from all participants and witnesses. Employees found violating this policy will be subject to discipline, up to and including termination, for causing or participating in a fight. (Also, refer to the "Violence in the Workplace Policy" in this handbook.)

GARNISHMENTS AND TAX LEVIES

When a garnishment or tax levy is served on CETraC, the employee shall be contacted by the HR & Communications Office or other individual to whom the responsibility has been delegated. The employee shall be asked to try to make an arrangement with the creditor or tax agency CETraC is to make direct payments to satisfy the indebtedness. If an agreement is reached, the employee must ask the creditor to issue a written release to CETraC.

If no release is received, or if, after receipt of a release the employee defaults on the agreement, CETraC must process the garnishment or tax levy.

HOLIDAYS

When a holiday falls on a Sunday, the Monday following shall be considered the holiday. When a holiday falls on a Saturday, the Friday prior thereto shall be considered the holiday. Employees on annual or sick leave during periods when designated holidays occur shall not have the day of the holiday charged against their accrued leave.

HOURS OF OPERATION AND ALTERNATE WORK (FLEX) SCHEDULES

Hours of Operation - The regular business operating days and hours of CETraC offices are Monday through Friday, except recognized holidays, 8:00 am to 5:00 pm, or as otherwise established by the Executive Director & Management Team.

Recognizing that some employees may have an approved alternate work schedule, the core operating hours, when all employees are expected to be at work, are from 7:30am to 4:00pm or 8:00am to 5:00pm Monday through Friday as designated by your Department Director. This is to ensure that employees will be available to meet the business needs of CETraC customers.

All non-exempt full-time employees are expected to take an unpaid lunch break between the hours of 11:00am and 2:00pm during a normal eight (8) hour or more workday as scheduled by their Supervisor and/or Department Director.

Alternate Work (Flex) Schedules - Alternate work (Flex) schedules are considered on a case-by-case basis. Not all departments are able to allow an alternate work (flex) schedule for their employees. Full-time employees who have completed the six (6) month probationary period may request an alternate work schedule. The employee must first discuss possible alternate work schedule arrangements with his/her Supervisor. The Supervisor will recommend approval and/or denial to the Department Director who will then approve and/or deny the alternate work schedule request based on staffing needs, the employee's job duties, the employee's work record, the employee's ability to temporarily or permanently return to a standard work schedule when needed, or for other reasons.

Once approved, a consistent alternate work schedule must be maintained in order to ensure adequate staff. Management may require a temporary or permanent change in any alternate work schedule to meet the business needs of CETraC.

An alternate work schedule may be suspended or cancelled at any time by Management. Exempt employees must depart from an alternate work schedule as needed to perform their jobs. Non-exempt employees may be asked to work overtime regardless of an alternate work schedule.

- An Alternate Work (Flex) Schedule at CETraC is a work schedule with time of arrival and departure that differs from the standard operating hours by not more than one (1) hour. For example, a typical alternate work schedule arrangement is arrival at 7:00am and departure at 4:00pm or arrival at 9:00am and departure at 6:00pm.

Any employee found abusing an alternate work schedule will be subject to disciplinary actions.

IDENTIFICATION/I.D. CARDS

An identification card is issued to each employee at the time of employment by Human Resources. If your ID card is lost or deteriorated, you must request a replacement card through the HR & Communications Office as soon as possible. ID cards must be carried by all employees working for or representing CETraC off CETraC property within CETraC service area during working hours.

ID cards remain the property of CETraC. Employees are required to return them to the HR & Communications Office upon termination of employment. Misuse of the CETraC ID card and/or the failure to comply with this rule will subject an employee to disciplinary action.

CETRAC PROPERTY

An employee is expected to exercise care in his or her use of CETraC property and to use such property only for authorized purposes. Negligence in the care and/or use of CETraC property, unauthorized removal of CETraC property from the premises, or the conversion of CETraC property for personal use, may lead to disciplinary action, up to and including, termination.

CETraC property issued to an employee must be returned at the time the employee terminates employment or when the employee's Supervisor or Director (or designated representative) requests its return. The value of any property issued, but not returned, may be deducted from an employee's paycheck. CETraC assumes no responsibility for loss or damage to the personal property of an employee, unless the employee can provide proof to his/her Director that his/her property was lost or damaged while performing his/her job duties. The final decision regarding the compensation for the damaged personal property will be made at the sole and exclusive discretion of the Executive Director & Management Team or his/her designee.

LOST AND FOUND

Any item lost or found on CETraC premises should be reported immediately to the HR & Communications Office.

The HR & Communications Office will post a lost or found notice via CETraC email. If the lost or found item is not claimed, the person who found the item may claim it.

LEAVE WITHOUT PAY (LWOP)

Leave Without Pay (LWOP) is an approved temporary absence from duty in a non-pay status. Any employee with no accrued leave who would like to take time off without pay must request LWOP in advance from their Supervisor. The request must be reported to the Director of HR & Communications who will forward the request to the Executive Director & Management Team for final approval/denial. The authorization of LWOP is a matter of administrative discretion and may not be demanded by an employee, except that:

- Disabled veterans are entitled to LWOP, if requested, for medical treatment;
- Members of the armed forces reserves and National Guard are entitled to LWOP, if requested, when ordered to military training duties if the absence is not covered by military leave; and
- Eligible employees may be entitled to up to twelve (12) weeks of LWOP for qualifying reasons under the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA). For additional information regarding eligibility and certification requirements, please see the FMLA Policy in this Handbook.

The employee must use all of his or her accrued leave before being considered for LWOP.

MAILING PERSONAL PACKAGES

CETraC mail service is not equipped to handle the mailing of personal packages. Employees must mail their personal packages on their own time.

MEDIA INQUIRIES

CETraC wants to ensure that our organization communicates accurate, appropriate, consistent, and timely information to the media, whether the inquiry specifically involves CETraC or even if it is a general inquiry of any nature. Therefore, it is the policy of CETraC that all media inquiries should be handled by CETraC designated spokesperson, which is the Director of Human Resources & Communications.

If members of the media contact a CETraC employee, other than the Executive Director & Management Team, the staff member should direct all inquiries to CETraC spokesperson.

It is common practice in businesses of all types to have a procedure for handling media inquiries and a designated spokesperson; therefore, when members of the media contact CETraC employees, it is entirely appropriate to refer the reporter to CETraC spokesperson.

Recommended response for a CETraC employee to a media inquiry:

"I am not the most appropriate person to speak with you about this. Please contact our company's spokesperson, who is [Director of Human Resources & Communications]."

If a media representative continues to ask questions, it is appropriate to repeat the recommended response noted above.

If possible, write down the name of the reporter, their media affiliation, and the reason for their inquiry. This information should be communicated immediately to the CETraC spokesperson.

Should a CETraC employee be approached by the media outside of CETraC premises, it is also appropriate to use the recommended response.

At no time should a CETraC employee offer an official response to a member of the media on behalf of CETraC, other than CETraC spokesperson, Executive Director & Management Team, or an employee expressly designated by CETraC spokesperson or Executive Director & Management Team.

Should a media representative begin shooting video or photographs of CETraC facilities or work being performed by a CETraC employee/crew, notify CETraC spokesperson immediately.

In an emergency or urgent situation, if the spokesperson is unavailable, any media contact should be referred to the following people in this order: Executive Director & Management Team and Assistant General Manager.

In certain circumstances, CETraC employees may be authorized to speak with the media in specific situations if, for example, they have relevant subject matter expertise – but only with prior approval by CETraC spokesperson or Executive Director & Management Team.

MEDICAL EXAMINATIONS

PRE-EMPLOYMENT PHYSICALS: In order to maintain a vigorous and healthy work force CETraC shall require pre-employment medical examinations. After a conditional offer of employment is made applicants will be required to undergo a complete physical by CETraC designated physician. All job applicants who receive a conditional offer of employment for a “mandatory-testing position” will undergo screening for the presence of illegal drugs or alcohol as a condition for employment.

MANDATORY PHYSICALS: Mandatory physicals are required physicals for employees who have been exposed to certain chemicals at the power plant and must be tested for asbestos and mercury as required by OSHA.

EMPLOYMENT PHYSICALS – REASONABLE SUSPICION: If a Supervisor, after consulting with the Department Director and Director of HR & Communications, has reasonable suspicion that an employee is under the influence of, or using alcoholic or illegal substances, that Supervisor may require that said employee, be examined by a CETraC -designated physician, which will include a drug and/or alcohol test. If the employee is in the bargaining unit, the IBEW President will be notified. Refusal to take a drug or alcohol test will result in automatic termination of the employee as stated in CETraC Drug-Free Workplace Policy.

EMPLOYMENT PHYSICALS – FITNESS FOR DUTY: The Supervisor, after consulting with the Department Director and Director of HR & Communications, may also require that an employee submit to a physical and/or psychiatric examination by a CETraC designated physician to determine fitness for duty, which may include a drug and/or alcohol test. CETraC will pay for Fitness for Duty physicals. Refusal to take a drug and/or alcohol test will result in automatic termination of the employee as stated in CETraC Drug Free Workplace Policy. If the employee is in the bargaining unit, the IBEW President will be notified.

If an examination results in disclosure of the employee’s inability to meet the required minimum standards of the specific position, the results of the examination shall be reviewed by the Director of HR & Communications and the employee's Supervisor and Department Director. Findings and recommendations shall be forwarded to the Executive Director & Management Team for final disposition. Payment of any expense incurred by the employee other than the initial examination required by CETraC will be the responsibility of the employee.

An employee determined to be physically or mentally unfit, with or without reasonable accommodation, to continue working in his/her present classification, may be reclassified to any available position for which the employee is determined to be physically or mentally fit, with or without reasonable accommodation, provided such a position is available, or the employee may be terminated.

Power Plant Employees: CETraC agrees to provide to any employee, concerned about his/her health, due to working in the gaseous surroundings of the power plant, a chest x-ray and skin test. Any such x-ray and skin test under the conditions of this paragraph will strictly be a voluntary decision on the part of the employee.

NEPOTISM POLICY (RESTRICTION OF EMPLOYMENT OF RELATIVES)

CETraC will not hire outside applicants into a department in which a relative is employed. However, CETraC will allow inside employees to be transferred or promoted into the same department as long as the relative is in a different section and as long as there is no conflict of interest between the affected sections as determined by the Executive Director & Management Team. Relatives are defined as father, mother, son, daughter, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, first cousin, nephew, niece, husband, wife, domestic partner (per CETraC Resolution), father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, step-father, step-mother, step-son, step-daughter, step-brother, step-sister, half-brother, and half-sister.

An employee may not appoint, employ, promote, advance, or advocate for appointment, employment, promotion, or advancement in or to a position, any individual who is a relative of the employee. An individual may not be appointed, employed, promoted, or advanced in or to a position if such appointment, employment, promotion, or advancement has been advocated by an employee who is a relative of the individual.

Notwithstanding the foregoing general rules, CETraC does not have a blanket ban on the employment of spouses or domestic partners (per CETraC Resolution) in the same department. A spouse or domestic partner (per CETraC Resolution) may not appoint, employ, promote, advance, or advocate for appointment, employment, promotion, or advancement, of his or her spouse or domestic partner (per CETraC Resolution) in or to a position at CETraC over which the spouse or domestic partner (per CETraC Resolution) exercises jurisdiction or control. Mere approval of budgets shall not be sufficient to constitute jurisdiction of control for the purpose of this section. This exception to the General Rule will also apply to current employees who become married while already employed by CETraC.

The above-described parts of this Nepotism Policy will not apply to current employees who are currently working in the same department as a relative, as long as both employees continue to be employed in that department. However, this Policy will apply to a grandfathered-in employee who seeks a transfer or promotion to another department where another relative is employed.

NEWLY HIRED EMPLOYEES - TRANSFER POLICY

CETraC makes every effort to fully and effectively train newly hired employees. Toward that goal, during an employee's initial six (6) month probationary period, he/she shall not voluntarily transfer jobs without the consent of his/her Department Director.

NON-FRATERNIZATION

In order to promote the efficient operation of CETraC business, and to avoid misunderstandings, complaints of favoritism, other problems of supervision, security, and morale, and possible claims of sexual harassment or other harassment, Supervisors, Directors and Managers are discouraged from dating or pursuing romantic or sexual relationships with employees they supervise, directly or indirectly. Employees who violate this guideline will be subject to discipline, up to and including termination of employment.

OPEN-DOOR ENVIRONMENT

The purpose of the Open-Door guideline is to implement the philosophy that employees should be encouraged to raise their work-related concerns informally with their immediate Supervisor and/or Department Director or with any other Supervisor of their choice. CETraC will attempt to keep all such expressions of concern, investigation, and the terms of any resolution confidential and consistent with applicable public records laws when possible, recognizing, however, that in the course of investigating and resolving the concerns, some dissemination of information to others may be necessary or otherwise appropriate.

Employees are encouraged to raise work-related concerns with their immediate Supervisor and/or Department Director as soon as possible after the event that causes the concerns occurs. Alternatively, if you believe that your immediate Supervisor is not the appropriate person with whom to raise the concern, you may raise it with the Executive Director & Management Team, Director of HR & Communications or with any other member of CETraC senior management that you choose.

Employees are encouraged to pursue discussion of their work-related concerns with the Supervisor of their choice until the matter is fully resolved. It may not always be possible to achieve the result the employee wants, but if not, CETraC will attempt, in each case, to explain why. CETRAC believes that employee concerns are best addressed through informal and open communication. No employee will be disciplined or otherwise penalized for raising a good-faith concern.

NOTE: In accordance with CETraC policy – employees must request permission from their Supervisor prior to leaving their assigned work area.

OUTSIDE EMPLOYMENT AND BUSINESS INTERESTS

The loyalty of employees must remain with CETraC at all times. Members of senior management may not engage in any outside employment that might affect the objectivity and independence of their judgment or conduct in carrying out their duties and responsibilities to CETraC. Other CETRAC employees may, with the approval of the HR & Communications Office, engage in outside employment, business or commercial activities or services; however, such participation shall not be during the employee's normal work schedule. Moreover, employees shall not engage in outside employment that might conflict with CETraC, present a conflict of interest under CETraC' Code of Ethics, or that conflicts with scheduled hours, overtime hours when required, or the proper performance of CETraC assignments or the meeting of established deadlines. The term “employment” means both self-employment and employment by others.

Directorships/Trusteeships – employees are required to obtain approval before agreeing to serve as a Director or trustee of another utility, governmental organization, trade organization, or not-for-profit corporation. Requests for such approval shall be forwarded to the Executive Director & Management Team or General Counsel, as appropriate, with all relevant information. In acting upon such requests, the Executive Director & Management Team will consider whether the other organization does business or might do business with CETraC, and whether the proposed position might constitute a conflict of interest or not be in the interest of CETraC. The decision of the Executive Director & Management Team is final. Should the Executive Director & Management Team or General Counsel desire to serve as a Director or trustee of another utility, governmental organization, trade organization, or corporation the determination will be made by the Chair of the Utility Board, and, in that case, the Chair’s decision is final.

Any employee who does not report to work due to a reported illness (including FMLA), and who is found performing duties from outside employment or business sources, will be subject to discipline, up to and including termination.

PAY PROCEDURES

CETraC has adopted the following policies with regard to wages and salaries:

- Advance payment of earned wages or salaries may be made in an emergency or when an employee's regular payday falls within his or her vacation period or leave of absence. Except in cases of emergency, requests for advance payment of wages or salaries must be made at least two weeks in advance. Such requests must be initiated by the Supervisor.
- Employees will be paid by direct deposit to the financial institution(s) of their choice. A paycheck will only be issued in cases of pending direct deposit pre-note, resulting from initial direct deposit set up or subsequent bank/deposit account change.
- Paychecks that employees do not claim within two (2) weeks of the date of issue must be returned to the payroll section.
- Employees should report checks lost or otherwise missing to the payroll section immediately so a stop-payment order may be initiated. The Accounting & Analysis Supervisor will determine when and if a new check should be issued to replace a lost or missing check.
- Employees will cash paychecks on their personal time.

- By law, CETraC is required to deduct, where applicable, federal withholding taxes and garnishments from an employee's pay. In addition, the following deductions will be made when an employee authorizes them: dependent insurance coverage, dental coverage, United Way, saving and/or checking accounts, union dues, secondary insurance coverage, etc.
- All payroll deductions must be requested in writing, on a form provided by the HR & Communications Office, except deductions for union dues, which must be on the form found in Article V of the IBEW contract. (See attached exhibits for form)
- The final paycheck for voluntarily resignations or terminated employees will generally be made available on his or her regular payday that follows the last work day.
- Payday is every last week of the month (monthly) unless otherwise specified by Management.

PERSONAL USE OF CETraC RESOURCES

CETraC facilities, computers, and equipment (resources) are intended to support the needs and administrative functions of CETraC. Employees shall not use CETraC resources (including any person, money, or property) under their official control, direction, or in their custody for personal financial benefit or gain, or for the financial benefit or gain of any other individuals or outside organizations.

CETraC provides digital networking capacity to various locations within CETraC offices for employee and guest access. However, there are limits on acceptable use of CETraC network, and all users must comply with those limitations as otherwise stated in CETraC policies and as mandated by Ghana State laws.

Employees and guests are not permitted to set up private servers for personal use, perform local file sharing, or use network connections in any CETraC building that has not been approved in writing by Information Services. This applies to the following types of services, included, but not limited to: HTTP (Web), telnet, FTP, IRC, and email. The setup of a virtual private network (VPN) or other like connections and networking devices including, but not limited to: wireless access points, routers or unapproved dial-out access from any computer or system is prohibited, unless otherwise first approved in writing by Information Services.

Employees and guests may not use applications that consume disproportionate bandwidth, attempt denial-of-service attack(s), probe and/or exploit security holes in other systems, access unauthorized IP addresses, or otherwise degrade or restrict network access for others (either in or out of the office).

Employees are prohibited from configuring any computer system to gain unauthorized Internet or CETraC network/system access. Employees may not download, copy or use any software, images, music, or other intellectual property (such as books or videos) unless he/she has the legal right to do so and prior written approval of Information Services. Unauthorized use of software, images, music, or files is regarded as a serious matter. Any such use is without the consent of CETraC and those responsible for such abuse shall be solely liable, in their individual capacities, for all consequences of such abuse.

CETraC has implemented technical methods designed to regulate the consumption of network resources. These technical methods include, but are not limited to:

- Blocking access to specific services normally used for servers
- Limiting total network bandwidth from any connection
- Limiting incoming and outgoing services to those expressly approved by Information Services

There are a limited number of "guest access" points for CETraC guests. Any CETraC employee or guest must use common sense and courtesy while using the network. Employees are prohibited from using guest access points to circumvent the controls placed on CETraC internal network and/or this policy.

The use of CETraC resources for the conduct of outside work is strictly prohibited. Using CETraC property for private financial gain is a misappropriation of funds and may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Furthermore, CETraC resources may not be used for supporting, promoting, or soliciting for an outside organization or group (unless otherwise permitted by law and CETraC policy), assisting with an election campaign, promoting or opposing a ballot proposition or initiative, or lobbying the state legislature (unless otherwise allowed by CETraC management), or advertising and selling for commercial purposes.

CETraC resources may not be used in any manner that is in violation of any CETraC policies, state or federal laws, or that might violate the rights of any third party.

Occasional limited personal use of CETraC resources, including email and Internet access, is permitted; however, the following conditions must be met:

- There is little or no cost to CETraC
- The use is brief in duration and occurs infrequently during work hours
- The use does not interfere with the performance of the employee's official duties
- The use does not disrupt or distract from the conduct of CETraC business due to volume or frequency
- The use does not disrupt other CETraC employees and does not obligate them to make a personal use of CETraC resources, and

- The use does not compromise the security or integrity of CETraC property, information, or software.

In making any decision to use CETraC resources, facilities, computers, or equipment, employees are reminded that there should be no expectation of privacy with regard to the use of CETraC resources, facilities, computers, or equipment, can and will be monitored for troubleshooting and training purposes (e.g., email, facsimile transmissions, voicemail, and Web sites visited).

Employees must consult with and seek approval from their Supervisor when they are uncertain about the permissibility of a use of CETraC resources, facilities, computers, or equipment. Supervisors have discretion to restrict their employees' use of CETraC resources, facilities, computers, and equipment in response to concerns regarding work performance, abuse of such CETraC resources, or other violation of this or other policies.

PERSONNEL RECORDS AND PRIVACY

Privacy

CETraC respects the privacy of its employees; however, as a public entity, CETraC must comply with Ghana's Public Records Law. If a request is made for information from an employee's personnel file, CETraC must comply; however, if time permits, Human Resources will attempt to contact the employee to advise them of said request.

Information Updates

Maintaining a correct and up-to-date personnel record is important because it enables CETraC to reach each employee you in an emergency, properly maintain each employee's insurance and other benefits and compute each employee's payroll deductions. Employees should notify Human Resources promptly and in writing of changes to:

- address and telephone number;
- marital status (for insurance and tax purposes);
- name;
- beneficiary / dependents listed in your insurance policy;
- emergency contact information.

In addition, if an employee would like to provide CETraC with documentation concerning the completion of any training or educational courses, those records will be included in an employee's training record.

All documents stored in the personnel record by CETraC will remain with the record indefinitely. Although State retention schedules may suggest a limited necessity for certain documents, it is our practice that no documents that have been properly placed in the record will be removed at any time, for any reason.

POLITICAL ACTIVITY

The term "political activity" shall include any and all efforts of individuals, individually or in concert with others, which are done for the purpose of supporting or opposing any candidate, party, or issue in an election or done to affect the outcome thereof.

No political events may be conducted at CETraC' facilities at any time. The following forms of political activity shall be prohibited at all times on CETraC property:

- Distribution of campaign material, including cards, brochures, and other items defined by law as political advertising, to fellow employees or CETraC customers.
- Political signs as used herein shall not include advertising on bumper stickers, sunshades, or other signs permanently affixed to a vehicle and which are legal for roadway traffic.
- Solicitation of fellow employees or CETraC customers by a candidate or any person acting on behalf of a candidate.
 - CETraC does not offer candidate walkthroughs, however, candidates are allowed to greet employees either at 8:00 a.m. or 5:00 p.m. outside the employee entrance door at CETraC Service Building.
- Nothing contained herein shall be interpreted to prohibit any candidate from being on CETraC property at any time if such candidate is:
 - Attending a function that is open to the general public;
 - Attending a function that is open to members of an organization and the candidate is a legitimate member;
 - Visiting CETraC to obtain information concerning their account and/or that of their business;
 - Visiting CETraC for pre-approved candidate greetings.
- Nothing contained herein shall be interpreted to prohibit the distribution or use of newspapers, magazines, or other printed materials which contain paid political advertising, where the distribution or use of such items is for purposes which are nonpolitical in nature.

CETraC employees shall have the right to actively participate in political activities on behalf of any candidate, party, or issue during the time they are not scheduled to be on duty. Such time shall include authorized personal or vacation leave.

Employees who are Candidate for Public Office:

CETraC employees who declare themselves candidates for public office shall notify the Executive Director & Management Team immediately upon qualifying for election. They shall file with the Executive Director & Management Team a written summary of their plans to conduct a campaign that will not interfere with their obligation to CETraC.

Employees who are campaigning for or hold public office shall not use time, facilities, or personnel of CETraC to engage in such activities. Specifically, the use of copy reproduction equipment or other machinery or supplies, the use of clerical help, or any other CETraC facilities or personnel is strictly prohibited. Telephone use for such political activities during working hours shall be confined to an emergency only, and then only in such a manner as shall not conflict with the employee's related duties. Such office holder, or other politically active employee, is expected to discourage constituents, or other persons with whom they are associated in their political capacities, from making telephone calls to them during working hours.

All candidates for public office may take personal leave without pay in accordance with personal leave procedures.

Such candidates shall adhere strictly to Ghana statutes governing political activity on the part of public officials and public employees.

A successful candidate for an office requiring a part-time responsibility shall report immediately to the Executive Director & Management Team after the election and thereafter, when deemed necessary by the Executive Director & Management Team, to evaluate the compatibility of the dual responsibility and the need for personal leave without pay.

PROBATIONARY PERIOD

CETraC recruits carefully and attempts to hire the best employee for each position. It is, however, to both CETraC and the employee's advantage to have an initial period of employment in which the employee has time to appraise CETraC and job content, and CETraC has a similar opportunity to appraise the new employee's job performance. Thus, each new employee must satisfactorily complete a probationary period of 6 months measured from his or her initial date of employment.

Prior to the end of the probationary period, the Supervisor, with the consent of the Department Director will recommend, in writing, retention of the employee. If a positive recommendation is not made (and this can be anytime during the 6-month probationary period), the employee shall be terminated from employment with CETraC with no rights of appeal, including the grievance procedure, Career Service, or any other recourses.

Definition of Probationary: All newly hired employees shall be considered probationary for the first six (6) months in their position. (Also, any employee who has been promoted or transferred will be considered probationary for six (6) months in their new position and, if applicable, will be subject to Union Contract policies on probationary status.) (In addition, any employee signing an agreement to be placed on probation due to job performance deficiencies will be subject to this policy.)

Policy: It is CETraC policy to conduct performance evaluations with employees on a monthly basis for the length of the probation as a means of fostering employee development and motivating employees to reach their potential.

Objectives: The objectives of the evaluation plan are:

- To motivate and guide employees toward greater self-development and improve performance by discussing significant strengths and areas needing improvement in a positive, constructive manner.
- To provide a uniform means for Supervisors to assess the employee's performance in relation to performance requirements. To provide a means for evaluating employee suitability for continuation of employment beyond the probationary period.
- To identify training resource needs and to provide a record of employee progress.

Application: The performance of all employees is reviewed on a monthly basis during the six (6) months of probation. The program described herein applies to all employees.

At the successful completion of the 6-month probationary period, if recommended by the Supervisor and approved by the Department Director and Director of HR & Communications, the employee is made a regular employee and receives all applicable benefits of those regular employees. The successful completion of the probationary period, however, does not mean that the employee is guaranteed employment for any specific duration.

During the course of an employee's probationary period, said employee is free to leave CETraC at any time for any reason, and CETraC reserves a similar right.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

CETraC employees must always maintain a clear distinction in public expression, whether written or oral, between an individual viewpoint and that of CETraC.

Calls from members of the media should be directed to the HR & Communications office, which will be responsible for answering questions or setting up an interview with appropriate personnel.

An employee may not use CETraC letterhead for correspondence outside of CETraC, expressing a personal conclusion or point of view.

PUBLICATIONS - INTERNAL

Internal communications are published by the HR & Communications office. CETraC publishes a weekly electronic employee newsletter for all employees' information. It contains items of general interest to employees as well as any changes in CETraC policies. Employees are invited to send their contributions to the HR & Communications office.

PUBLICATIONS - EXTERNAL

When ordering trade magazines or external publications, it is requested that all ordering of these items be made through the Purchasing Department in order to avoid unnecessary duplication company-wide.

PUBLIC RECORDS REQUESTS

Recognizing there are several legal and other considerations involved in responding to a request for public records, all public records requests should be forwarded to the Records Coordinator immediately.

The role of the Records Coordinator will be to direct staff persons on how to timely and accurately respond to public records requests, while ensuring that the legal obligations of CETraC are met.

If the Records Coordinator is unavailable, the CETraC staff member should coordinate with the first available person, in order, from the following list of CETraC staff positions: Director of HR & Communications, Assistant General Manager or Executive Director & Management Team.

Most sizeable governmental entities in Ghana have a person who is designated to handle public records requests. Therefore, it is not uncommon for a staff person who receives a public records request to consult with another staff person to appropriately comply with the request. As well, make sure to obtain the contact information for the person making the public records request.

CETraC is obligated by Ghana's Sunshine Law to provide any member of the public access to CETraC public records and also to safeguard those public records. It is also the legal responsibility of CETraC to protect certain exempt and/or confidential information contained in its public records.

Public records can include, but are not limited to, documents, papers, letters, maps, books, tapes, photographs, sound recordings, emails, texts, or other material that is made or received in connection with the official business of CETraC. Most records of CETraC are public records.

On a routine basis, CETraC employees may receive requests for information from sources outside of CETraC. Generally, the information requested is for records that are unquestionably public documents of CETraC. At the other extreme, there are records that are exempt and/or confidential or contain exempt and/or confidential information. These types of documents can include, but are not limited to, litigation records, discrimination complaints, deferred compensation records, direct deposit records, medical records, social security numbers, bid proposals and data processing software.

In between the obviously public records and the exempt and/or confidential records are records that may require review and the exercise of some discretion to determine whether CETRAC may disclose such records of information, or there may be questions on how to safeguard those public records while they are being reviewed. Also, sometimes, public record exemptions do not apply to entire records, but apply only to certain types of information contained in public records. This requires a CETraC staff member to copy the public record and redact the exempt information from that public record prior to allowing a member of the public to inspect or examine the public record.

PURCHASING CARDS (P-CARDS)

Employees may be issued a P-Card and the P-Card is to be used for CETraC' purchases which are low value and non-recurring. Each P-Card holder, must agree to comply with the following terms and conditions regarding use of the CETraC P-Card by signing a CETraC P-Card Use Agreement Packet upon receipt that states;

- The employee is responsible for the security of their P-Card.
- The employee understands CETraC is liable to the issuing bank for all charges made on the CETRAC' P-Card.
- The employee agrees to use this P-Card for approved purchases only and understands that any personal use of the CETraC P-Card is strictly prohibited.

Management review and approval of the employee's use of the CETraC P-Card is accomplished when a monthly detailed expense report is submitted, which contains an accounting of such CETraC expenses, accompanied by the submittal of the employees P-card charge slip(s). (See Purchasing Card Policies and Procedures.)

Any misuse or discrepancy between an expense report and the P-card slips will be reported to an employee's Director, or otherwise dealt with immediately by the Executive Director & Management Team. Employees must agree to return the CETraC P-Card immediately upon request or upon termination of employment (including retirement).

If the CETraC' P-Card is lost or stolen, the employee must notify his/her Supervisor, Department Director and Supervisor of Purchasing immediately during normal business hour, otherwise notify issuing bank at the phone number provided on the back of the P-Card.

Each employee agrees to follow the procedures as stated above for the use of the CETraC' P-Card. Failure to do so may result in either revocation of the privilege of having a CETraC' P-Card or other applicable disciplinary actions, up to and including termination.

REFERENCES AND EMPLOYMENT VERIFICATION

All requests for references and employment verification must be referred to the HR & Communications Office. No one other than the HR & Communications Office may provide documented employment history as referenced. Any employee who fails to comply with this policy is subject to discipline.

RESIGNATION POLICY

In order for an employee to leave the employment of CETraC in good standing, it is important that the employee give at least thirty (30) days advanced notice of resignation. The final paycheck for a voluntarily resignation or terminated employees will generally be made available on his or her next regular payday after their last day. This policy in no way constitutes a contract or guarantee for advanced notice of termination by CETraC.

RESPONSIBILITY AND CONDUCT

Employees shall not work in a manner that willfully obstructs or hinders another employee from completing his or her assigned duties.

Employees shall conduct themselves so that the safety of both themselves and their fellow workers is preserved. Personal problems between employees shall not be pursued at work.

An employee must receive permission to leave their assigned work area (other than for lunch). The Supervisor shall be made aware of why the employee has gone, and how long they will be gone. Employees who work in the office area shall also tell the Staff Assistant why they are leaving and when they expect to return. Returning employees shall check in with the Staff Assistant and their Supervisor. Should a Supervisor be leaving the work area for any extended period of time, he or she shall tell subordinates who to contact in case of emergency.

As soon as practical after an employee knows that it will be necessary for him/her to be relieved from duty, the employee shall notify his/her Supervisor and/or Department Director.

Employees unable to report for work shall notify his/her Supervisor and/or Department Director as soon as soon as possible, not later than fifteen (15) minutes after the beginning of the scheduled workday. If the employee is on shift work, the Supervisor should be notified at least one (1) hour before the shift begins.

The employee must actually speak to his/her Supervisor and/or Department Director. If unable to reach his/her Supervisor and/or Department Director the employee must leave a detailed voice-mail message, to both the Supervisor and Department Director with a telephone number to be reached.

Failure to notify your Supervisor and/or Department Director will result in disciplinary actions as well as being charged leave without pay for the absence and be subject to disciplinary actions. The employee shall further advise his/her Supervisor and/or Department Director as to the probable duration of his/her absence and any changes of the duration. Also, employees shall notify their Supervisor and/or Department Director when they are able to return to work.

Any employee who does not report to work due to a reported illness (including leave under FMLA) and who is found performing duties from outside employment or business sources will be subject to discipline, up to and including termination.

CETraC' phones are not to be used for personal telephone calls, except for emergencies, and employees will not receive personal visitors at work without permission from a Supervisor. Cell phone use (including calls, texting, social media and the many other applications available today) should be kept to a minimum and should not interfere with an employee's responsibilities.

Employees are responsible for checking the bulletin boards for employee information. An employee who changes his or her address, telephone number, family status, etc., shall immediately report the changes to the HR & Communications Office.

The above stated rules are not all inclusive and employees are expected to contact their Supervisor if in doubt of what is expected of them. Failure to comply with these rules is grounds for disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

SAFETY

To provide for the safety and security of employees and the facilities of CETraC, only authorized visitors are allowed in the workplace. Restricting unauthorized visitors helps maintain safety standards, protects against theft, ensures security of equipment, protects confidential information, safeguards employee welfare, and avoids potential distractions and disturbances.

All CETRAC employees are expected to comply with CETraC Safety Manual. Copies can be obtained from CETraC Safety & Risk Officer. All employees are expected to be safety-conscious and to assist CETraC in finding conditions on the premises that might present unsafe conditions. Unsafe conditions or injuries received while at work, even though very slight, are to be reported to the appropriate Supervisor, and by that person to the Department Director.

Horseplay and practical joking can result in serious injuries or death, therefore, anyone engaging in horseplay or practical joking will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

A clean work area makes for a more pleasant, as well as safer, place to work. Employees in all departments are asked to help keep the surroundings as neat and orderly as possible. Trash receptacles that are easily accessible are to be located throughout the building, and all litter from lunches, scrap materials, and so forth is to be placed in these receptacles. Employees are encouraged to be conscious of health, safety, and fire prevention.

The following rules of safety should be observed:

- Keep area in and around work areas free from debris.

- Do not clean or repair any machine while it is in motion.
- Do not use any machinery that you are not properly trained to operate, except under direct supervision.

Identification cards are provided to each employee upon hire. Every employee must carry their I.D. card while representing CETraC during working hours off of CETraC property and within CETRAC' service area.

CETraC has installed remotely-operated electric gates or arms at the Ralph Garcia Steam Plant, William Arnold Service Building, and at the T&D complex for the purpose of maintaining security of these premises. All gates shall remain closed at ALL TIMES unless stated otherwise herein.

OPERATIONS:

- Gates are designed to open with a vehicular transmitter or by calling the control stations at each location on the telephone located outside the gates. Each CETraC assigned vehicle will have a transmitter assigned. Transmitters should be initiated at least twenty-five (25) feet before approaching the entrance of gate, then proceeds with caution.
- When vehicles are exiting the premises, the gates will automatically open by an inductive loop, which is located approximately six (6) feet from the gate.
- Entering or exiting through CETraC property without the use of a transmitter could be achieved by the use of telephones located on each side of gate. However, at the Service Building all pedestrian traffic will use the employee entrance.
- At the CETraC complex, where personnel presently park their private vehicles on CETraC property; these vehicle owners will be assigned transmitters.
- At the Stock Island Generation Site (including Fleets & Facilities and the Purchasing and Warehouse sections) where personnel presently park their private vehicles on CETraC property; these vehicle owners will be assigned transmitters.
- Each Section Supervisor shall issue and establish responsibilities for gate transmitters for each vehicle in their section.

SEVERE WEATHER, HIGHWAY AND/OR SYSTEM EMERGENCY CLOSING

Your safety is CETraC concern. In the event that disabling weather occurs during nonworking hours, the Executive Director & Management Team will determine if the office should be closed and in turn, employees will be notified via the automated telephone system (Crew Command).

Every effort will be made to alert employees prior to 6:45am of schedule changes. If you do not hear anything, you should assume that the office will open as usual and report to work for a normal day or you should contact your Supervisor and/or Department Director for clarification. It is the employee's responsibility to ensure that they actually speak to their Supervisor and/or Department Director during any emergency.

If unable to reach his/her Supervisor and/or Department Director the employee must leave a detailed voicemail message, to both the Supervisor and Department Director with a telephone number to be reached. Employees found violating this policy or not reporting to duty when required, will lose the compensation for the emergency, and be subject to possible disciplinary actions, up to and including termination.

The following are guidelines regarding compensation for an emergency situation and/or closing:

- When employees are instructed to not report to work due to a system emergency by the Executive Director & Management Team, employees will receive their regular pay for the hours they would have normally worked that day assuming the employee has followed all rules regarding contact with Supervisor and/or Department Director.
- When a day is not officially declared a system emergency (weather, highway closing, etc.), the employee who does not arrive at work will not be paid. However, in some circumstances (depending on the number of employees affected), the Executive Director & Management Team may allow lost time to be made up within the same workweek, allow the employee to utilize vacation hours, or the employee will receive LWOP, as long as it does not create overtime. In any case, you must contact your immediate Supervisor and/or Department Director to report such absence before the start of your work shift.
- In the event of a hurricane please also refer to the section below relating to Hurricane/Storm Procedures and essential personnel.

SMOKING

CETraC is a non-smoking, nicotine/tobacco-free campus. No smoking or nicotine/tobacco products are allowed on CETraC properties, or in its buildings or vehicles. Nicotine/tobacco products include cigarettes, cigars, e-cigarettes, vaporizers, chewing tobacco, snuff, and any other similar products. In accordance with Ghana "Workplace Act," smoking is not permitted in any public building. Any employee found smoking in an unauthorized area may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

SOLICITATION/DISTRIBUTION

You may engage in solicitation on CETraC premises, subject to the limitations herein, only during your nonworking time and the nonworking time of the person being solicited. Nonworking time means time during meals or breaks and before or after work.

You may distribute or circulate non- CETraC written materials to other employees only during nonworking time and only in non-work areas. If you are unclear whether an area is a work or non-work area, you should consult your Supervisor for clarification.

Solicitation or distribution in any way connected with the sale of any goods or services for profit is strictly prohibited anywhere on CETraC property at any time. Acceptable non-profit solicitations include children's school fundraisers, Girl Scout Cookies, Band or Camp fund raising or sponsorship in events where money or goods are pledged to legitimate non-profit charities. Similarly, solicitation or distribution of literature for any purpose by non-employees is strictly prohibited on CETraC property at any time.

Because we believe that work time is for work, and in order to keep all work areas clean, safe and as litter free as possible, we ask that you observe the above code of conduct. Outsiders (non-employees) are prohibited from engaging in solicitation, or distribution of literature, at any time in non-public areas.

STANDARDS OF EMPLOYMENT & RULES OF CONDUCT

Policy: Employees are expected to observe certain high standards of job performance and good conduct. When performance or conduct does not meet CETraC' standards, CETraC may endeavor (when it deems appropriate) to provide the employee a reasonable opportunity to correct deficiencies. DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES: CETraC reserves the right to proceed directly to serious discipline, including termination, for job performance deficiencies, misconduct or attendance deficiencies, even in the absence of prior disciplinary action, when CETraC deems such action is appropriate based on the seriousness of the matter. In certain circumstances, depending on the seriousness of the allegations, CETraC reserves the right to suspend an employee with or without pay until the Administrative Review Hearing is held and the outcome is determined.

ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW HEARINGS: Any employees facing disciplinary action with the possibility of suspension, termination, or demotion will be offered an Administrative Review Hearing (48-hour notice) prior to the action being taken, except when extenuating circumstances exist as determined by CETraC (i.e. emergency declarations). The purpose of this procedure is to ensure that employees are given a chance to submit any and all facts relative to the infraction for which disciplinary action being considered.

Following an Administrative Review Hearing, the Executive Director & Management Team will determine the severity of discipline imposed, taking into consideration any recommendations made by Supervisors, Directors and/or the Director of HR & Communications as well as taking into consideration the employee's personnel records, including past disciplinary actions.

If the Executive Director & Management Team agrees a termination is warranted, he/she will advise staff of the proceedings. The hearing outcome will state the reason for the recommended termination. Depending on the seriousness of the reasons, an employee may be suspended with or without pay until the Administrative Review hearing is held and the outcome is determined. If the employee is a bargaining unit member, the Union will be notified of the hearing and be given an opportunity to attend the Administrative Review Hearing.

TYPES OF DISCIPLINARY ACTION THAT COULD BE IMPOSED: CETraC relies on its employees to perform their jobs in accordance with the highest standards of public service. Counseling, along with disciplinary actions, may sometimes be administered to let you know when and where you have failed to meet its standards. This is meant to be educational and not punitive in nature. However, CETraC reserves the right to proceed directly to serious discipline, including termination, for job performance deficiencies, misconduct or attendance deficiencies, even in the absence of prior disciplinary action, when CETraC deems such action is appropriate based on the seriousness of the matter.

WRITTEN WARNING: A written warning is given to an employee to recognize a violation of CETraC' policy, rule, regulation, standards, practices or acts, which if repeated or continued, will subject the employee to a more severe disciplinary action. The warning should be noted in writing, a copy of the notation placed in the employee's personnel file, specifying the nature of the warning and the date given. If the employee is a member of the bargaining unit, the Union will receive a copy. (An Administrative Review Hearing is not necessary for a written warning.)

WRITTEN REPRIMAND: A written reprimand constitutes formal action against an employee for more serious types of violations of CETraC' rules or standards and rules of conduct, or where less stringent actions have not been successful in correcting a deficiency. The written reprimand must identify the offense or deficiency and the correction required. A written reprimand can be used to impose restrictions on an employee, such as attendance, conduct or special procedures to be followed. Restrictions so imposed shall be reviewed periodically and may be removed, modified, or continued with a follow-up letter. A copy of the written reprimand should be placed in the employee's personnel record. If the employee is a member of the bargaining unit, the Union will receive a copy. (An Administrative Review Hearing is not necessary for a written reprimand.)

DEMOTION: When an employee's performance demonstrates that he lacks the ability necessary for a position, that employee may be demoted. In addition, an employee can be demoted for disciplinary reasons. Following an Administrative Review Hearing, the Executive Director & Management Team will take into consideration any recommendations made by Supervisors, Directors and/or the Director of HR & Communications as well as taking into consideration the employees personnel records, including past disciplinary actions.

The Executive Director & Management Team must approve the action before it is imposed. If the employee is a member of the bargaining unit, the Union will receive a copy. A demoted employee shall be notified at the time of demotion of the specific reason for the action and correction expected, if any. Such notification shall be given to the employee in writing. A copy of the notification will be placed in the employee's personnel record along with a written report on all appropriate information concerning the action.

SUSPENSION: An employee may be suspended with or without pay as a disciplinary action. Following an Administrative Review Hearing the Executive Director & Management Team will take into consideration any recommendations made by Supervisors, Directors and/or the Director of HR & Communications as well as taking into consideration the employees personnel records, including past disciplinary actions. If the Executive Director & Management Team agrees a suspension is warranted, he/she will advise staff of the proceedings. Depending on the seriousness of the reason(s), an employee can be suspended with or without pay until the Administrative Review hearing is held and the outcome is determined. If the employee is a bargaining unit member, the Union will be notified of the hearing and be given an opportunity to attend the Administrative Review Hearing.

TERMINATION:

Voluntary Termination - CETraC will consider an employee to have voluntarily terminated his or her employment if an employee does any of the following, (An Administrative Review Hearing will not be held):

- Elects to formally resign from CETraC;
- Fails to return from an approved leave of absence on the date specified by CETraC; or
- Fails to report for work without notice to CETraC for three consecutive days

Involuntary Termination - An employee may be terminated involuntarily for reasons that may include poor job performance, misconduct, attendance or other violations of CETraC' Standards of Employment and Rules of Conduct as set forth above. Following an Administrative Review Hearing the Executive Director & Management Team will take into consideration any recommendations made by Supervisors, Directors and/or the Director of HR & Communications as well as taking into consideration the employee's personnel records, including past disciplinary actions. If the Executive Director & Management Team agrees a termination is warranted, he/she will advise staff of the proceedings. Depending on the seriousness of the reason(s), an employee can be suspended with or without pay until the Administrative Review hearing is held and the outcome is determined. If the employee is a bargaining unit member, the Union should be notified of the hearing and be given an opportunity to attend the Administrative Review Hearing.

Employees who refuse to take a required drug and/or alcohol test or test positive for a drug and/or alcohol test will be automatically terminated as stated in CETraC' Drug Free Workplace Policy. (An Administrative Review Hearing will not be held.)

Termination Due to Reorganizations, Economics, or Lack of Work - From time to time, CETraC may need to terminate an employee as a consequence of reorganizations, job eliminations, and economic downturns in business, or lack of work. Should CETraC consider such terminations necessary, CETraC will attempt to provide all affected employees with advance notice when practical or when required by law. Layoff benefits associated with such terminations, if any, will be as specified in any such notice.

INDICTMENTS, PROSECUTIONS, ARRESTS:

It is the responsibility of CETraC to maintain a proper work force. Employees who are arrested, indicted by a Grand Jury, or on whom information has been filed by a prosecuting official, may be given an Administrative Review Hearing to determine the effect said action has on his or her employment with CETraC, which may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination. If an employee is temporarily suspended, pending adjudication of the charges, another Administrative Review Hearing will be held after adjudication of the charges to determine whether to reinstate the employee based on review of the underlying facts, regardless of the outcome of the criminal case. In any case, where an employee is temporarily suspended pending adjudication, CETRaC shall not be precluded from conducting another Administrative Review Hearing and changing that temporary suspension to some other discipline, including termination prior to adjudication.

GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES:

CETraC wishes to ensure that any regular employee complaints or grievances are quickly resolved to the mutual satisfaction of CETraC and the employee. Bargaining unit employees may use the grievance procedures contained in the Collective Bargaining Agreement between CETraC and the IBEW. Management employees will use the following procedure: (An employee on a probationary status is not eligible to use the grievance procedures.)

- Step 1: Any complaint, problem, or grievance should be raised in the first instance, within three (3) working days, of the occurrence of the event to be reviewed, with the Director of HR & Communications who will schedule a meeting for the employee to meet with his/her immediate Supervisor and who will render a decision within 5 working days following the meeting.
- Step 2: If the employee does not consider to have received a satisfactory answer to their Step 1 grievance, within five (5) working days, the employee may submit the grievance in writing to the Director of HR & Communications who will schedule a meeting with the Department Director who will investigate the grievance, meet with the employee, and render a decision, within 5 working days, following the Step 2 meeting.
- Step 3: If the employee does not consider to have received a satisfactory answer at Step 2, within five (5) working days the employee may submit the grievance in writing to the Director of HR & Communications who will schedule a meeting with the Executive Director & Management Team who will investigate the grievance, meet with the employee, and render a decision as soon as possible depending upon the circumstances involved. The Executive Director & Management Team's decision shall be final and binding.

Forms for filing a grievance can be obtained in the HR & Communications Office (except forms with the IBEW). All grievances, both Collective Bargaining Unit and CETraC grievances must be filed with the Director of HR & Communications.

CAREER SERVICE APPEALS:

A Career Service employee who has been suspended without pay, terminated, given a reduction in pay, or a demotion shall have the right to appeal said action to the Career Service Council by filing a petition with said Council within thirty (30) days following such suspension, termination, reduction in pay, or demotion. However, before an appeal can be filed with the Career Service

Council, the employee shall first file a timely grievance under CETraC' internal grievance procedures. There shall be no appeals to the Utility Board.

STORM/HURRICANE PROCEDURES

Because CETraC provides a training & consulting advisory service, CETraC and its employees are critical to the Lower Ghana CETraC. All employees are expected to perform duties associated with preparing for, and recovering from, the hurricane/storm. (Please refer to the CETraC ' Hurricane/Storm Procedures Manual for detailed information on this policy).

All employees are considered essential personnel. CETraC is committed to maintaining safety and providing electricity to whatever extent possible before, during, and after a hurricane/storm. The employee designations have been established to achieve that commitment. In the event that a hurricane/storm occurs during nonworking hours, the Executive Director & Management Team will determine if the office should be closed and in turn, employees will be notified via the automated telephone system (Crew Command).

Every effort will be made to alert employees prior to 6:45 am of schedule changes. If an employee does not receive the automated phone message, the employee should assume that the office will open as usual and report to work for a normal day or contact their Supervisor and/or Department Director for clarification. It is the employee's responsibility to ensure that they actually speak to their Supervisor and/or Department Director during any emergency. If unable to reach his/her Supervisor and/or Department Director the employee must leave a detailed voice-mail message, to both the Supervisor and Department Director with a telephone number to be reached.

Employees found violating this policy or not reporting to duty when required, will lose the compensation for the emergency, and be subject to possible disciplinary actions, up to and including termination. An Administrative Review Hearing will not be conducted during any declared system emergency. The Executive Director & Management Team will notify the Union President if an Emergency is declared.

Employees are designated into two classifications:

- First Responders (FR): These are employees that are typically available locally before, during, and immediately after a disaster. Their main responsibilities are to maintain the integrity of CETraC ' electrical network, assist the community in life-safety needs, and immediately commence restoration of the community's "essential" electrical infrastructure.

Detail Procedure/Policy: First Responder (FR) employees must contact their immediate Supervisor when a Hurricane/Storm Warning is issued. If the employee reaches the Supervisors voice mail, the employee must leave a detailed message, including a telephone number, so the Supervisor can return the call. If the immediate Supervisor cannot be reached, the employee must follow the chain of command and contact their Department Director. FR employees must report to work and be available, as needed, throughout and after the storm. Employees who are designated as FR are subject to 48-hour recall from scheduled vacations in the event that a hurricane/storm warning is issued. It is the employee's responsibility to keep apprised of weather affecting CETraC service area. FR employees must contact their immediate supervisor if a hurricane/storm warning is issued. CETraC will pay for the telephone call. Whenever possible, FR employees should provide their immediate Supervisor with a telephone number at which he/she can be reached within eight hours.

- Second Responders (SR): These are employees that are vital to the utility and community after a disaster has occurred. They assist the utility in all aspects of restoration in order to "get back to normal" statuses.

Detail Procedures/Policy: Second Responder (SR) employees must contact their immediate supervisor when a Hurricane/Storm Watch is issued. If the employee reaches the Supervisor's voice mail, the employee must leave a detailed message, including a telephone number, so the Supervisor can return the call. If the immediate Supervisor cannot be reached, the employee must follow the chain of command and contact the Department Supervisor or Director. SR employees will be required to report to work to make all necessary preparations. When they are no longer needed, they will be released. However, SR employees must keep in contact with their immediate Supervisor (if the immediate Supervisor cannot be reached, the employee must contact the Department Director) for recovery. SR employees will be needed to provide immediate recovery support functions as directed.

CETraC is committed to maintaining safety and providing electricity to whatever extent possible before, during, and after a hurricane/storm. The employee designations have been established to achieve that commitment. CETraC is willing to work with employees with special needs throughout the hurricane/storm (for example, employees with custodial duties of minor children may be excused). All special needs must be brought to the attention of the employee's Supervisor. The Supervisor will then relay your request for excuse to the Department Director, and the Department Director will make the decision to grant or decline the request.

SURPLUS POLICY

All CETraC property will be surplus in accordance with CETraC Surplus Policy. Under no circumstances will any property that has not gone through the Surplus Policy Procedures be disposed of or given away.

TELEPHONE POLICY

Telephone courtesy is essential. When answering a CETraC phone, state the name of your department and/or your name.

Much business is conducted over the telephone, and as a general policy, use of office telephones for personal business should be limited. On occasion when local, personal calls are required for compelling reasons they may be made as long as they are kept brief and the privilege is not abused.

All employees using CETraC telephone extensions may have their calls recorded for training purposes and for quality assurance. There is no expectation of privacy when using any CETraC telephone extensions.

Cellphone use and PDA use (including calls, texting, social media and the many other applications available today) should be kept to a minimum and should not interfere with an employee's responsibilities

THREATS - (BOMB, FIRE & ARSON)

The danger of a possible fire or bombing is too great to ignore. Whenever a call is received at CETraC about a bomb or fire threat, the following actions must be taken: (1) The fire alarm must be sounded and the building evacuated immediately pursuant to the procedure for a fire evacuation; (2) The police must be notified in the case of a bomb threat or the fire department in the case of a fire threat; (3) No one can re-enter the building until authorized by the appropriate police and/or fire authorities.

No bomb threat or arson threat call should be taken as a joke or disregarded. All such calls must be treated as real threats to safety.

The power plants, control room, and data processing/server rooms each have their own procedures in case of any emergency.

(Also, refer to the "Violence in the Workplace Policy" in this handbook.)

TIME & ATTENDANCE POLICY

All employees in bargaining unit positions are subject to the time and attendance policy. The time clock is to be used to document the beginning of a shift, the beginning of lunch break, the end of lunch break and the end of a shift. Failure to clock in or out may result in the loss of pay or possible disciplinary actions. If an error occurs in clocking in or out, the employee should bring this to the attention of his or her Supervisor who will work with the HR & Communications Office to determine what happened and have the problem corrected.

The Department of Labor requires employers (including CETraC) to maintain records of hours worked by employees. In order to help us maintain accurate records, employees are not to clock in more than seven minutes prior to the beginning of their shift and are to clock out within seven minutes from the time their shift ends.

It is necessary to maintain complete records of the hours worked by each hourly employee and it is important that every employee clock in/out at the beginning and end of each work period. The rules pertaining to time clock procedures are listed below. Violation of these rules may be cause for disciplinary actions, up to, and including termination.

- No employee, under any circumstances, shall clock in for another employee.
- No employee shall assist, or participate with another, in falsifying time records.
- All employees clocking in before their regular shift will not be paid overtime unless authorized by the appropriate department representative, as designated by the department head.
- Any employee failing to clock in or out should report to his or her Supervisor or designated representative as soon as the infraction is discovered.
- All overtime shall be authorized and the appropriate department representative authorizing overtime must approve each day's overtime on the official Overtime

Approval Form: An employee found to have worked unauthorized overtime may be subject to disciplinary actions.

- When reporting for work, employees shall not clock in prior to seven minutes before the beginning of the work period. Employees clocking in after the beginning of the work period will be considered tardy.
- No employee shall clock out before the end of the work period. When ending a work period, the employee shall clock out within seven (7) minutes after ending the work period unless overtime has been authorized by the appropriate department representative and the official Overtime Approval Form has been approved by the Supervisor.
- Above rules 6 and 7 apply to lunch period also.

- Any employee failing to clock in/out during the time allowed will be charged "LWOP" at the following rate, per occurrence: Disciplinary procedures will follow if a pattern of tardiness arises.
- The only official overtime will be the overtime that has been approved by the Supervisor on the Official Overtime Approval Form.
- Employees will be paid according to their documented hours worked.
- No employee shall tamper with or destroy time clocks or fixtures.
- Where circumstances such as emergency call outs, make it impractical for the employee to clock in at the start or end of his/her work shift, the Department Director, or his/her representative may enter "time worked" on the employee's e-Time and authorize with his/her signature. Under no circumstances should the Department Director or his/her representative clock in for him/her. Overtime and standby time will be shown on the official Overtime Approval Form and authorized by the appropriate department representative.
- Each Department Director will document who the appropriate representatives are by memorandum to the Executive Director & Management Team with a copy to the CFO and the Director of HR & Communications.

TRAINING - ON THE JOB

An employee will be given thorough training for the job he/she will be performing. In most cases, this training will be given by the Supervisor, or another designated and qualified employee.

The purpose of this instruction is to help the employee develop the information and skills necessary to enable the employee to perform the work to which he/she assigned. Each employee is encouraged to request from his/her Supervisor or the HR & Communications Office, more instruction if he/she feels it will benefit his/her job performance.

TRAVEL POLICY

The most current travel policy can be located in each department by seeing the Department Staff Assistant and/or the HR & Communications Office. Any employee traveling on CETRAC business must follow CETraC' Travel Policy.

TUITION/VOLUNTARY TRAINING ASSISTANCE

CETraC encourages and supports efforts by its employees to improve their skills and participate in education programs for advancement by studying job-related subjects at an accredited educational institution, and via online training programs (including webinars), correspondence programs (i.e. Penn Foster), and through other available local and distance-learning opportunities. Thus, CETraC prepays costs for certain pre-approved education-related expenses in accordance with the following standards and criteria.

Through its Tuition/Voluntary Training Assistance Program, CETraC will prepay:

- Tuition expenses for full-time employees who have successfully completed the six-month probationary period, provided the course(s) are related to the employee's job, or determined to be of benefit to CETraC as determined by the Executive Director & Management Team. If the course and/or degree is not available at the local university in its sole discretion, will determine whether reimbursement should be an amount equivalent to local schools' costs or if a greater reimbursement is justified. All courses and course work must be accomplished outside the employee's normal working hours. Textbooks are eligible expenses under this program, and the cost of required texts can be included in the prepayment or will be processed for reimbursement to the employee upon proof of purchase. Travel and incidental expenses are not eligible under CETraC Tuition/Voluntary Training Assistance program.
- Training expenses for job-related voluntary training programs through a variety of sources, including, but not limited to, correspondence/web-based training programs (i.e. Penn Foster, GPI Learn, Delmar Learning, etc.), webinars, local seminars and continuing-education classes are considered eligible expenses under this program.

Employees who leave voluntarily from CETraC must pay back a prorated amount, up to the full cost paid on their behalf by CETraC for education and training expenses, based on the following guidelines;

- AA degree or equivalent – 12 months preceding the employee's separation
- BA or BS degree or equivalent – 24 months preceding the employee's separation
- MA or MS degree or equivalent – 36 months preceding the employee's separation

Repayment is due upon separation. If full repayment is not received, it may be deducted from the employee's final paycheck (including vacation and/or sick leave payouts).

Eligibility:

1. Prepaid course(s) must relate to the employee's current position or be of benefit to CETraC as determined by the Executive Director & Management Team.
2. College course(s) must be taken for credit—not audited—from an approved institution, (local community college and university are the schools of choice). If the course and/or degree is not available at the local community college or university, CETraC in its sole discretion, will determine whether reimbursement should be an amount equivalent to local schools' costs or if greater reimbursement is justified.

3. Course of study and eligibility for reimbursement must be approved prior to enrolling or registering in the course.

Note – Under no circumstances will CETraC pay for college credits exceeding the requisite 60 credit hours for an associate’s degree, 120 credit hours for a bachelor’s degree, or 36 credit hours for a master’s degree.

Payment/Reimbursement:

CETraC will prepay the institution for actual tuition and registration fees for up to two (2) approved courses per term (meaning a semester, a quarter or other designation for one grading period). The employee may submit receipts for reimbursement of books to the HR & Communications Office.

Taxability:

Internal Revenue Code (IRC) provides an exclusion from an employee’s gross income per calendar year for amounts paid by an employer through a sponsored education assistance program. Qualified expenses include: tuition, fees, books, and supplies for both undergraduate and graduate education. Anything amount will be processed as gross income, taxed, and reported on the employee’s W-2 form.

Procedure:

1. No later than June 1st of each fiscal year, employees seeking tuition assistance for the future FY (Oct - Sept) must email the Director of HR & Communications and HR Supervisor so that CETRAC can account for the employee’s expenses during budget planning. Depending on the number of employees seeking to use this benefit, management will review the total costs, and during budget sessions, determine how much will be allocated per employee. Information that must be submitted in your request:
 - a. Employee name
 - b. Degree being sought
 - c. Number of credit hours earned to date
 - d. Institution
 - e. Number of classes per semester for which the employee is requesting funding (maximum of 2) and cost per credit hour
2. Before enrolling in a college course or training program, the employee must complete the CETraC Tuition/Training Assistance form, have his/her Department Director approve the request, and submit it to the HR & Communications Office.
3. Before enrollment or registration, the employee must receive written approval from the Executive Director & Management Team, who has sole discretion to determine whether the course(s) and the employee satisfy all the eligibility requirements listed above.

4. If taking a college course, the employee must provide the educational institution with a fully-executed copy of their Tuition/Training Assistance form upon registering.
5. The employee must present all receipts (tuition, registration, books, lab fees, etc.) indicating the amount(s) paid. Employees must also submit copies of any and all award letters for financial aid and/or tuition assistance. Employees will be reimbursed only to the extent they are not reimbursed through other programs, including, but not limited to, grants, scholarships, Veterans Administration programs, fellowships, other tuition reimbursement or assistance programs, financial aid programs, etc., but excluding student loans.
6. The employee must present an official grade report indicating a grade of at least "C" or its equivalent in the course within two weeks of completion of the course. If the course, including books, was prepaid and the employee did not achieve a grade of at least "C," the cost of the course will be deducted in two payments from the employee's next two paychecks.

If an employee is in a degree-seeking program, all electives will be evaluated and monitored by the employee and their immediate supervisor to determine that they are related to the employee's job duties, if possible. In evaluating electives, priority shall be given to the immediate needs of CETraC. An employee cannot be reimbursed for a physical education course unless it is needed for a specific job. For example, golfing would never be approved, but scuba diving could be approved if diving is needed for a specific job.

At times, tuition/training assistance requests may be limited or denied due to budget constraints.

In the event that an employee is required by CETRAC to participate in any of the aforementioned or other training programs, the pro-rated repayment policy will not apply.

VEHICLE ACCIDENT POLICY

The following procedures and disciplinary actions shall be taken when an employee is involved in any vehicle accident while driving/operating a CETraC vehicle or associated equipment. (This will include leased, rental, and personal vehicles when used for CETraC business purposes).

An accident is defined as any incident involving collision with another vehicle or object whether stationary or moving, regardless of the amount of damage to either of the vehicles, equipment, or stationary object.

ACCIDENTS INVOLVING THIRD PARTIES must be reported immediately to the CETraC Control Center. The Control Center will notify the Safety & Risk Officer, the employee's Supervisor, and the Fleets/Facilities Supervisor. If the accident involves a third party, the dispatcher must call the police immediately. The CETraC driver/operator must wait at the scene for the police. The CETraC driver/operator should make no statement concerning who is at fault and should not discuss or argue with the other party about the accident. If the investigating police officer does not make a determination of fault, then the Management Investigating Committee (consisting of two management employees) will make a determination as to whether the driver/operator has caused, or contributed to the accident. In any case, CETraC vehicle must not be moved from the accident site unless law enforcement directs that the vehicle/equipment be moved. The vehicle must remain at the accident site until the Management Investigating Committee determines if a representative of CETraC Fleets Section needs to inspect the vehicle/equipment.

ACCIDENTS INVOLVING ONLY DAMAGE TO CETRAC VEHICLES WITH NO THIRD PARTY INVOLVEMENT must be reported immediately to the CETRAC Control Center. The Control Center will notify the Safety & Risk Officer, section Supervisor, and the Fleets/Facilities Supervisor. The Management Investigating Committee will make a determination as to whether the driver/operator has caused the accident. Disciplinary action will be applied as provided in the policy. Failure to report such accidents can result in termination. In any case, the CETRAC vehicle/equipment must not be moved from the accident site unless law enforcement directs that the vehicle/equipment be moved. The vehicle/equipment must remain at the accident site until the Management

Investigating Committee determines if a representative of CETRAC' Fleets Section needs to inspect the vehicle.

THE FOLLOWING DISCIPLINARY MEASURES WILL BE APPLIED AS INDICATED:

 - b. The driver/operator will be required by CETraC to submit to an alcohol test, which may be administered by the police at the scene of the accident. SECOND ACCIDENT IN ANY 36-MONTH PERIOD

1. If the CETRAC employee is judged to have caused an accident by the investigating police authority, or the CETRAC Management Investigating Committee (consisting of at least two management employees):
 - a. A second written reprimand will be issued by the Supervisor and approved by the Department Director if the employee caused the accident. This letter will stipulate that the employee will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination if a third chargeable accident occurs within the thirty-six (36) month period.

The driver/operator will be required to take a drug test and/or alcohol test to be administered by CETraC' designated physician following the accident in accordance with the CETraC Drug-Free Workplace Policy. If it cannot be determined who was driving/operating CETraC vehicle/equipment at the time of the accident, then anyone who was driving/operating the vehicle/equipment during that time period will be required to take a drug and/or alcohol test.
 - c. Employees who test positive will be disciplined in accordance with CETraC Drug-Free Workplace Policy and CETraC Standards and Rules of Conduct Policy.
 - d. Employees who refuse to take the test will be automatically terminated in accordance with CETraC Drug-Free Workplace Policy and CETraC Standards and Rules of Conduct Policy.

2. If the employee driver/operator has not caused the accident, a copy of the vehicle accident report will be placed in his/her personnel file. In addition, the Safety & Risk Officer along with the Director of HR & Communications will review the employee's driving record, if applicable, to determine if there may be additional contributing factors, which might help the employee to avoid exposure to vehicle accidents.
3. Whether or not the employee is judged to have caused the vehicle accident, the employee will be required to attend a "Defensive Driving Course" which may occur on the employee's own time. Depending on the seriousness of the accidents, the employee may be prohibited from driving a CETRAC vehicle until completion of a Defensive Driving Course.

1. If the employee is judged to have caused an accident by the investigating police authority or the CETraC Management Investigating Committee (consisting of two management employees):
 - a. The employee will be required to submit to an alcohol level test, which may be administered by the investigating police at the scene of the accident. Also, following CETraC knowledge of the accident, the employee will be required to take a drug test or alcohol test to be administered by CETraC designated doctor in accordance with the Drug-Free Workplace Policy. If it cannot be determined who was driving/operating the CETraC vehicle/equipment at the time of the accident, then anyone who was driving/operating the vehicle/equipment during that time period will be required to take a drug and/or alcohol test.
 - b. If either of the tests is positive, the employee will be disciplined in accordance with CETraC' Drug-Free Workplace Policy and CETraC' Standards and Rules of Conduct Policy.
 - c. Employees who test positive will be disciplined in accordance with CETraC Drug-Free Workplace Policy and CETraC Standards and Rules of Conduct Policy.
 - d. Employees who refuse to take the test will be automatically terminated in accordance with CETraC Drug-Free Workplace Policy and CETraC Standards and Rules of Conduct Policy.
 - e. The CETraC driver/operator will be subject to an Administrative Review Hearing to determine appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including termination since this is the third accident in a thirty-six (36) month period.

VEHICLE BACKING POLICY

CETraC has conducted safety meetings, warnings, and hearings regarding the serious safety problems related to driving vehicles backwards. Any employee (driver and passengers) observed violating this policy, or who is involved in an accident while driving in reverse, may be subject to an Administrative Review Hearing. A review of the employee's personnel records will be used to determine if more stringent disciplinary action is needed, up to and including termination. Below is the policy, taken from the CETraC Safety Manual, on backing-up CETraC' vehicles.

CETraC Safety Manual: Article 503.6-Backing

- a. Whenever possible, the vehicle shall be positioned to avoid the necessity of backing-up later.
- b. Extreme caution shall be exercised when backing a vehicle, to avoid injury to persons and to prevent property damage. Another employee, if present, shall be stationed at the rear of the vehicle to assist the driver in backing-up the vehicle safely. If alone, the driver shall get out and check conditions, walking and observing 360 degrees around the vehicle, before backing-up.

Employees who operate vehicles with outriggers will be required to do a walk-around first before lowering or retracting the outriggers to determine that no obstructions are in the way. Violation of this policy will not be tolerated and may also lead to disciplinary action.

VEHICLE IDLING REDUCTION POLICY

The Driver and Vehicle Licensing Authority (DVLA) has issued a regulation governing idling of heavy duty diesel vehicles. To comply with this regulation, CETraC has developed the following Vehicle Idling Policy. Please note that CETraC' policy is more stringent than the DEP's policy. - c. If idling is necessary for the safe operating condition as required by law and that all equipment is in good working order, either as part of the daily inspection or otherwise needed, provided that engine idling is mandatory for such verification.
- d. If idling is necessary to accomplish work for which the vehicle was designed, other than movement, for example: operating a lift, crane, hoist or other auxiliary equipment other than a heater or air conditioner.
- e. If idling is necessary to operate the air conditioner to prevent a safety or health emergency, but not solely for the comfort of the driver.

Violation – Disregard of this policy will result in appropriate disciplinary action.

VISITORS

No visitors or vendors are allowed on CETraC property without permission from management. Property means any and all CETraC property, whether it is the Service Building, Power Plants, Substations, etc. This applies to former employees as well as to strangers. It is the responsibility of each Supervisor to refer unauthorized visitors or vendors to the Department Director.

Visits by personal friends or family of employees are discouraged, unless permitted by the Supervisor.

No visitor is allowed to wander about the premises unescorted. No visitor is allowed to break CETraC rules affecting safety; and any employee seeing such an infraction should inform his or her Supervisor.

All vendors must report to the Buyers, located at CETraC Stock Island address on Front Street or the prearranged, individual department.

Groups of visitors, such as schoolchildren or senior citizens, who wish to make a guided tour of CETraC, are welcome. Arrangements for this must be made well in advance with the HR & Communications Office.

A "visitor" is not to be confused with a "customer." All customer-related business will be conducted on the first floor of the Service Building so that no customer should have to "wander" throughout the building.

WORKERS' COMPENSATION

All employees of CETraC are covered by Workers' Compensation Insurance in the event of injuries or accidents while at work. This insurance provides for compensation for medical expenses and for a percentage of wages lost due to accidents or illnesses occurring while you are on the job.

It is very important that you report an injury immediately, no matter how minor, to CETraC Control Center who will notify your immediate Supervisor, Safety & Risk Officer and the HR & Communications Office so that the necessary forms can be completed and a determination for medical treatment be made by the employee and/or management. You should report all accidents and injuries regardless of how minor they may seem because they can develop complications later and because we want to correct the cause of the accident to prevent future recurrences.

In addition, if an employee has incurred a job related injury and the injury requires surgery and/or on-going medical treatments the employee must stay in contact with their immediate Supervisor, Safety & Risk Officer and the HR & Communications Office to keep them apprised of their recovery and status. Employees are required to obtain a Medical Authorization "Pass to the Physician" before each visit and have this form completed by the attending physician and returned to the HR & Communications Office at the conclusion of each visit. An employee incurring a lost time injury from CETraC will have his time charged against FMLA and workers compensation concurrently. Any employee who fails to report an injury during the shift in which the injury occurred may be subject to disciplinary action.

WORKPLACE VIOLENCE

CETraC policy is to strive to maintain a work environment free from intimidation, threats, or violent acts. This includes, but is not limited to, intimidating, threatening or hostile behaviors, physical abuse, vandalism, arson, sabotage, use of weapons, carrying weapons onto CETraC property, or any other act, which, in Management's opinion, is inappropriate to the workplace. In addition, offensive comments regarding violent events and/or behavior are not tolerated.

Employees who feel subjected to any of the behaviors listed should immediately report the incident to any Supervisor, Director, or HR & Communications Office representative. Complaints will receive immediate attention and the situation will be investigated. Based upon the results of the inquiry, disciplinary action may be taken against the alleged offender, at the discretion of Management.

Employees who observe or have knowledge of any violation of this policy should immediately report it to CETraC Management. CETraC will act when unforeseen events occur and look to employees for support of this policy. Employees should directly contact proper law enforcement authorities if they believe there is a serious threat to the safety or health of others.

POLICY: It is the policy of CETraC to expressly prohibit any acts or threats of violence by any employee, or former employee, against any other employee, in or about CETraC facilities or elsewhere at any time. Also, CETraC will not condone any acts or threats of violence against its employees, customers, or visitors by any individual on CETraC premises at any time, or while they are engaged in business with, or on behalf of CETraC on or off CETraC premises.

CETraC objective is to provide a safe work environment, and CETraC is committed to the following:

1. Take prompt remedial action, up to and including termination, against any employee who engages in any threatening behavior or acts of violence or who uses any obscene, abusive, or threatening language or gestures or otherwise violates this policy.
2. Take appropriate action against customers, former employees, or visitors to CETraC facilities who engage in such behavior. Such action may include notifying the police, or other law enforcement personnel, and/or prosecuting violators of this policy to the maximum extent of the law.
3. Prohibit employees, former employees, customers, and visitors from bringing unauthorized firearms or other weapons, onto CETraC premises.

4. Establish practical security measures to ensure that CETraC facilities are safe and secure, and to deal properly with access to CETraC facilities by the public, off-duty employees, and former employees.

DUTY TO WARN:

In furtherance of this policy, employees have a duty to warn their Supervisors, Risk Manager, or the HR & Communications Office if they are aware of, or reasonably suspect any problematic or potentially violent workplace activities, situations, or incidents, that involve other employees, former employees, customers, or visitors. This would include, for example, threatening or offensive acts or comments, acts of violence, or acts of aggressive behavior. Employee reports made pursuant to this policy will be held in confidence to the maximum possible extent. CETraC will not condone any form of retaliation against any employee for making a report under this policy.

PROCEDURE:

Crisis Assessment: Crisis assessment is a response to serious or potentially serious actions or threats against individuals or CETraC. In the event of such actions or threats, a crisis-assessment team will be convened. Whenever possible, the committee will be composed of a representative from CETraC HR & Communications Office, Safety & Risk Officer, Supervisor and the Department Director of the employee involved.

Physical Hostile Actions: Physical hostile actions that may be considered endangering or life threatening, by or against any employee, or individual, on CETraC property, or while an employee is off-premises engaged in CETraC business, should be responded to by calling the Police or Sheriff's Department and to the HR & Communications Office. Upon such notification to the HR & Communications Office, the following procedures will be observed:

1. The HR & Communications Office or designee will notify and coordinate its efforts with the Police or Sheriff's Department.
2. A representative from the HR & Communications will respond to the scene of the incident, and immediately convene the crisis-assessment team to decide the appropriate action to take.
3. Physical hostile actions or threats by an employee require immediate attention. In certain circumstances, depending on the seriousness of the reason, an employee can be suspended, "with pay," until an Administrative Review Hearing is held: (The Executive Director & Management Team will make this decision.) Disciplinary actions may be recommended following an Administrative Review Hearing, (written warning, written reprimand, suspension "without pay," or termination). Law enforcement action may also be taken by the Police or Sheriff's Department.

PERSONAL THREATS AGAINST INDIVIDUALS OR CETraC:

Confrontational threats while at work or while engaging in CETraC business should be dealt with in the following manner:

1. The Supervisor, Safety & Risk Officer, and a representative of the HR & Communications Office will immediately meet with the individual or individuals involved.
2. In certain circumstances, depending on the seriousness of the threat an employee can be suspended "with pay" until an Administrative Review Hearing is held. (The Executive Director & Management Team will make this decision). Disciplinary actions may be recommended following an Administrative Review Hearing, (written warning, written reprimand, suspension without pay, or termination).
3. Use of the Police or Sheriff's department should be considered at any time depending on the circumstances.
4. Further follow-up through a crisis-assessment may be invoked if warranted.
5. In support of this Policy, CETraC has continued the Employee Assistance Program. An employee who displays (actual or perceived) violent, abusive, or threatening behavior, or who otherwise engages in behavior that CETraC, in its sole discretion, deems offensive or inappropriate, may be referred to the Employee Assistance Program for counseling or other appropriate treatment.

OTHER THREATS:

Threats against individuals of CETraC, regardless of how transmitted, (written, verbal, or electronically), should be immediately reported to the HR & Communications Office.

1. HR & Communications will immediately notify the crisis-assessment team and management, at the Director level, of the individual making the threat, if known, and employed by CETraC.
2. The crisis-assessment team will immediately convene to consider the threat, including the nature of the threat, the nature of on-going communications with the individual, and the circumstances preceding the threat. It will also consider the need for immediate action, including denial of facility access, notification of law enforcement authorities, and possible legal action against the individual making the threat.

FIELD LOCATIONS:

Hostile actions or in-person, written, or electronic threats occurring at CETraC off-site locations should follow these procedures:

1. Hostile actions and threats must be made known to the senior, on-site Supervisor and/or Director immediately. This Supervisor and/or Director should contact the HR & Communications Office to determine the next steps to be taken in concert with the crisis-assessment team and to determine the appropriateness of contacting local law enforcement agencies.
2. The Safety & Risk Officer will record details of the incident for analysis and review by the HR & Communications Office and local law enforcement officials if necessary.

DOCUMENTATION:

It is critical that any material relevant to the incident be maintained until the HR & Communications Office decides on its proper disposition.

In all circumstances, the HR & Communications Office will maintain and complete a detailed log of events that will be reviewed regularly, and as needed.

COMMUNICATIONS WITH NEWS MEDIA:

All communications with the press and other news media about a violent workplace incident will be handled by the HR & Communications Office, in coordination with CETraC legal counsel.
